APPLE SAYS IT WILL MANUFACTURE ENTIRE iPHONE 16 LINEUP IN INDIA

Weeks after launching its iPhone 16 series, Apple said that it will manufacture its entire iPhone 16 lineup, including premium devices, in India

PREMIUM DEVICES TO ROLL OUT THIS MONTH

This marks the first instance of Apple producing its premium devices outside China. The company said Indian-made iPhone 16 Pro and Pro Max models will be rolled out this month. These will be available for local customers and will also be exported. "Apple is now manufacturing the entire iPhone 16 lineup, including iPhone 16 Pro and iPhone 16 Pro Max, in India," it said

FOUR MORE APPLE STORES COMING UP

- The iconic phone maker also said that it will open four more stores in India, to be located in Pune, Bengaluru, Delhi-NCR and Mumbai
- Apple's manufacturing partners in India include Taiwanese giants Foxconn and Pegatron, as well as the Tata-owned Wistron. The Tata Group is Apple's only Indian manufacturing partner | P15

Modi convenes urgent Cabinet meet to discuss West Asia crisis

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

AMID rising global tensions over the prospects of an Israel-Iran war, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has convened a meeting of the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) to discuss the evolving situation and its potential impact on India.

According to sources, a significant portion of the discussion focused on fuel and crude oil supplies, with Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman putting the status on trade with other countries. The committee deliberated on whether the rising international fuel prices, influenced by the situation involving Iran, could affect India's oil sector. A source said the Ministry of Finance ruled out any immediate adverse implications for India.

The CCS meeting, held late on Thursday evening, lasted over 20 minutes, during which various aspects of the unfolding situation were discussed.

Apart from ministers, officials from Home Affairs, External Affairs, Finance, and Defence were also present.

The ministers deliberated on the potential for trade relations with countries affected by the conflict, noting that India's trade interests could be hit.

Prime Minister Modi urged ministers and officials to maintain heightened vigilance and to closely monitor developments. He stressed the need to ensure the safety of Indian nationals working in West Asia. According to estimates, over 30,000 Indians are currently in Israel, while there are about 10,000 Indians are in Iran.

Jaishankar-led team to attend SCO meet in Pak

First Indian foreign minister in nine years to visit the neighbour amid frosty bilateral ties

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar will lead the Indian delegation for the upcoming SCO Summit in Islamabad, making him the first Indian foreign minister to visit Pakistan in nine years. "Jaishankar will lead the Indian delegation for the SCO Summit for Islamabad on October 15-16," said Ministry of External Affairs spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal on Friday.

The last time an Indian external affairs minister went to Pakistan was Sushma Swaraj in 2015.

There was no clarity on whether India will have any bilateral talks with other Shanghai Cooperation Organisation (SCO) members as Jaiswal said Jaishankar is travelling to Pakistan only to attend the summit. During the SCO foreign ministers' meeting in Goa in 2023, Pakistan's foreign minister Bilawal Bhutto had travelled to India along with 11 journalists from his country.

Significantly, Indian fugitive and radical Islamist Zakir Naik is in Pakistan over the past few days. He also met Pakistani Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Thursday.

"We are not surprised that a fugitive from Indian justice has received a high-level welcome in Pakistan. It is disappointing and condemnable, but it is not surprising," said Jaiswal.

Bilateral ties became frosty after Indian Air Force jets bombed a Jaish-e-Mohammed training camp in Balakot deep inside Pakistan in February 2019 in response to a terror attack on a CRPF bus in J&K's Pulwama. Months later, J&K's special powers under Article 370 were read down. Pakistan retaliated by downgrading diplomatic ties with India.

During his recent UN General Assembly address, Jaishankar said that while many countries get left behind due to circumstances beyond their control, some make conscious choices with disastrous consequences, pointing to Pakistan as a prime example. "A dysfunctional nation coveting the lands of others must be exposed and countered," he said.

He was rebuffing the false equivalence Pakistan Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif sought to draw between Kashmir and Palestine in his UNGA address the previous day. Later, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh said India could have extended much more aid to the neighbour than the IMF's $7 billion had it mended its ways.

Foolproof security

Pakistan minister Mohsin Naqvi said personnel from the Army, Rangers, FC and Punjab police will be deployed to ensure foolproof security for the SCO guests, reports Dawn

AT least 28 Maoists were killed in a fierce gun battle with the security forces close to the forested Nendur-Thulthuli area along the inter-district border of Dantewada and Narayanpur in south Bastar on Friday.

Bastar range Inspector General of Police Sunderraj P said the troopers have recovered 28 bodies so far. The count could go up further.

"Based on specific intelligence inputs about the presence of Maoists in the region, a joint team comprising District Reserve Guards and Special Task Force launched parallel search operations. While the encounter began around 1 pm, intermittent exchange of firing continued till late in the evening. Search operations in the region are under way," Prabhat Kumar, Narayanpur district police chief, told this newspaper.

A large cache of assault weapons, including AK-47, self-loading rifles and explosives were recovered from the site, the police said. There was no report of any injury sustained by the forces.

The recovered bodies will be identified after the safe return of the security forces engaged in the operation.

Dantewada and Narayanpur are among the seven Maoist-affected districts in Bastar zone.

Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Vishnu Deo Sai hailed the operation and said the 'double engine' government (BJP government in the state and at the Centre) is determined to end the menace.

As many as 185 Maoist fighters have been neutralised by security forces this year alone (see table). Besides, 663 others have been arrested and 556 surrendered since January in the conflict-ridden Bastar zone.

Since 2019, as many as 277 new camps of central armed police forces were set up to fill the security vacuum in the Maoist-affected areas of the state.

Whodunnit? B'luru girl killed at home

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

MYSTERY shrouds the death of a 13-year-old schoolgirl in Bengaluru's Jayanagar after an autopsy revealed that she had been murdered.

The police are yet to crack the murder case registered more than three months ago.

Gargi Murulidhar, a resident of Ushas Apartment, 16th Main Road, Jayanagar 4 'T' Block, was found dead in her room on May 23. Her mother Shruthi Deshpande, who tried to wake her up in the morning, found Gargi's bed wet, indicating that she had urinated at the time of her death.

Hearing Shruthi's screams, Gargi's father Murulidhar sought the help of two doctors residing in the same apartment. The doctors, who examined Gargi, asked Murulidhar to rush her to hospital. The couple then took Gargi to a private hospital in Jayanagar, where she was declared brought dead.

Suspecting foul play in his daughter's death, Murulidhar filed a complaint with Tilak Nagar police.

After registering an unnatural death report, the police shifted the body to Victoria Hospital for postmortem.

Death due to asphyxia, says forensic report

On July 18, the head of the hospital's Forensic Medicine Department gave a report to the police stating that the "death was due to asphyxia as a result of smothering."

Based on the report, the police registered a murder case on July 18. Even after four months of the girl's suspicious death, the police are yet to crack the case. They, however, suspect that the accused must be known to the victim.

"Gargi's father works as a delivery manager with a private company, while her mother is a teacher. Gargi was having summer holidays. On May 22, she visited her grandfather's house in Ashok Nagar. P3

Metro fares to be revised soon? Committee set up

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

NAMMA Metro is all set to hike its fares within a few months. A three-member fare fixation committee has been formed for the purpose.

The committee has been given 90 days to submit its recommendations, which will be binding on Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL), according to Metro sources.

The committee is headed by retired Madras High Court judge Justice R Tharani and has Satyendra Pal Singh, Additional Secretary, Ministry of Housing and Urban Affairs, and EV Ramana Reddy, former Additional Chief Secretary, Karnataka, as its members.

The last fare revision was done eight years ago. The minimum fare is Rs 10 and the maximum is Rs 60. Smart card users get a 5% fare discount.

An official said BMRCL has been requesting the Centre for a fare revision for the past three years. "The committee will take into account the operational cost, the interest paid annually to international lending agencies, the loan amount, and other costs," he added.

Stating that public views will be sought on the proposed fare hike, he said, "On Thursday, we posted a notice on our website, appealing to Metro passengers to offer suggestions by October 21. Such notices will be displayed at all Metro stations soon."

Many Metro users have already opposed the proposed fare hike. Suggestions may be sent to ffc@bmrc.co,in or by post to The Chairperson, First Fare Fixation Committee, BMRCL, 3rd Floor, C-Block, BMTC Complex, KH Road, Shanti Nagar, Bengaluru 560027.

Green Line extn gets nod for commercial operations

Bengaluru: The Commissioner of Metro Rail Safety (CMRS) on Friday evening gave the green signal for operation of trains on the 3.14-km Nagasandra-Madavara line. The stretch falls on the Green Line of Tumakuru Road. While the line has overshot the deadline, CMRS A M Choudhary has taken just one day to inspect the line fully and has given the nod within 24 hours. It is now up to the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) to announce the launch of operations. It is to seen if BMRCL will go ahead with the launch due to the short stretch involved or will wait for a nod from both the state and Centre before going ahead. BMRCL has consistently maintained that the line will be launched in October. ENS

RAMAIAH INSTITUTE HOSTS I4C-2024

Bengaluru: Ramaiah Institute of Technology (RIT) held the 5th International Conference on Circuits, Control, Communication and Computing, I4C-2024. The conference was inaugurated by Dr Dilip Krishnaswamy, Director, C-DOT Bengaluru, and Prof Santanu Mahapatra, Professor, Department of Electronic Systems Engineering, IISc, on Friday. Dilip Krishnaswamy said AI/ML is good but more than that, core subjects are important. "Other technologies in domains such as agriculture, healthcare, wireless systems, robotics, control systems and semiconductors are also equally important. Intelligent systems are the current trend and it needs domain experts to guide and build intelligent systems." Prof Santanu Mahapatra said the 4C's -- Circuits, Control, Communication and Computing -- are the four pillars of engineering systems. More than 100 researchers from across the country and abroad are presenting research papers at the two-day conference. ENS

BBMP workers, accompanied by marshals and police personnel, clear the encroachments from footpaths on Church Street on Friday | EXPRESS

BBMP clears Church Street encroachments

Fifty shops had encroached footpaths

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) carried out a pavement encroachment clearance operation on Church Street in East Zone on Friday.

East Zone Commissioner Snehal R supervised the operation to clear encroachments from footpath. Shop owners were already warned many times not to encroach the footpaths.

Around 50 shops on both sides of Church Street used to display their wares on the pavement and these were cleared. Encroachments were cleared in about one-km of Church Street. Police personnel and BBMP marshals were present to maintain security. "More than 20 gangmen, two tippers and six tractors were deployed and materials kept on the pavement were seized. All shop owners have been warned not to encroach on the footpath again," said a senior official.

The zonal commissioner said cooking food on pavements will adversely affect health and hygiene. Also, using cylinders in open spaces is more likely to cause accidents. Due to the encroachment of the footpaths, people were forced to walk on the road putting them at risk of accidents besides hindering smooth flow of traffic. Hence an effective encroachment clearance operation will be conducted in the eastern zone.

Palike reclaims 2.5 guntas of lake land

Based on a complaint, officials of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Lake Division and Revenue Department cleared encroachments and reclaimed 2.50 guntas of lake land at Kaggadasapura in Bengaluru East. The lake department is now fencing the reclaimed land which is worth over Rs 2 crore.

According to Akshath, Assistant Executive Engineer, Lake Division, Bengaluru East, sheds had come up behind the Muneshwara Temple side of the lake. These were removed using bulldozers. "The recovered land is worth over Rs 2 crore in the current market," said Akshath. He added that fencing is going on for the reclaimed land and the Palike officials are also following up with the Land Grabbing Prohibition Special Court to clear the permanent structures that have come up in the lake area.

Study reveals gaps in public sanitation infra

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

A RECENT study has revealed critical gaps in the city's public sanitation infrastructure, and highlighted alarming issues related to accessibility, inclusivity and hygiene.

Conducted by RV University's Centre for Disability Justice and Inclusion (CDJI) and Centre for Gender Studies (CGS), the study, titled -- Flushed Out: Unravelling the Labyrinth of Public Toilets in Bengaluru - A Tale of Access, Equity, and Quality -- noted Bengaluru's rapid population growth, which is currently at 2.94% annually, and stressed the urgent need for adequate public facilities, particularly among vulnerable groups like street vendors and gig workers, who heavily rely on public amenities.

The study, which examined 65 public toilets across various areas, pointed out that while the city has 803 public toilets, key tourist destinations like Cubbon Park and Ulsoor Lake lack these essential facilities outside the premises. It also found that toilets are primarily clustered around commercial hubs such as Commercial Street and Chickpete.

The study, conducted over a one-month period, surveyed public toilets in a variety of public spaces, including parks, Metro stations, bus stops and marketplaces.

In areas where toilets were provided, they were often difficult to locate. For example, despite the presence of five toilets in Lal Bagh, none were indicated on the entrance maps, forcing visitors to search for as long as 19 minutes to find one, the study stated.

Moreover, out of the 65 toilets surveyed, 52 were neither marked on maps nor had any visible directions to guide the public. The absence of universal symbols and adequate arrows further complicates the situation, particularly for women, the elderly, and disabled individuals who may be uncomfortable asking for directions.

The study also identified that many public toilets were poorly lit or lacked proper locking mechanisms. Inclusivity was another major issue, with only two toilets providing sanitary products, which were only available upon special request from male staff members who would bring them from nearby pharmacies.

The study also found that only 18% of the toilets had dustbins within stalls, leading to improper disposal of waste and blockages in many facilities. Sanitary pad disposal units were rare, and handwashing facilities were available in only 30% of the toilets.

ALONG THE BANKS?

Heavy to moderate rain in the city left several areas, including Veerasandra and Electronics City, waterlogged, causing traffic to move slowly across various key areas. Traffic police personnel were on their toes managing the situation

BDA chief cracks whip on staff, seeks daily work report

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

STAFF and officials at the Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) have been given a reminder to pull up their socks and shed their "laid-back" attitude as they are now under watch.

Commissioner N Jayaram has mandated that all engineers and top officers in the department need to specify details on the work they have put in on a daily basis, beginning Friday (October 4). The daily report needs to be submitted in their handwriting to the commissioner's office.

The commissioner held a meeting on Thursday and made it clear that a strict daily tab would be kept on the working of every officer.

A source privy to the meeting said engineers in particular are under the lens. "A few of them have the tendency to state that they were on certain inspections, or were involved in identifying or clearing encroachments and take a break from work. The objective behind it is to rein in such people and make them accountable during work hours."

This would apply to engineers, land acquisition officers, the revenue officers and the Special Task Force (STF) of the authority which would total over 100 staff.

Another official said so far only a monthly report on duty was being dispatched. "Making us submit a daily report would definitely make everyone do some justice to their work," he added.

Staff not available when people come to meet them, forcing them to wait for hours, is a common complaint at the BDA head-office at Palace Gutahalli.

Crackdown on touts

The Special Task Force on Friday cracked down again on brokers inside the head-office. This is the second time within a fortnight that they were being rounded up.

Edu dept announces academic calendar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE higher education department has announced the affiliation and academic calendar for the academic year 2025-26. The decision comes in response to numerous requests for timely announcements regarding affiliation processes and timelines, ensuring that all stakeholders have adequate preparation time. The academic processes will commence in October 2024 and should be completed by March or April 2025, facilitating a timely start to classes for the 2025-26 academic year. The government has issued an order, effective from October 4, to implement this comprehensive academic schedule for Bachelor's and Master's degree programmes. The calendar includes provisions for examinations and evaluations, aligning with UGC guidelines that require a minimum of 90 working days per semester.

IndiGo pilot walks out of packed flight citing duty hours, sparks debate

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE incident of a pilot of an IndiGo flight refusing to fly the plane packed with passengers citing completion of duty hours, has kicked up a storm on social media. The incident, which happened on a Pune to Bengaluru flight, took place ten days ago, but came to light after a video of the incident was posted online.

The viral video has ignited a storm online, with the public criticising the pilot but those in the aviation industry insisting that the pilot was on the right side of the law as he could be penalised by the aviation regulator for exceeding daily duty hours.

A video of nearly 200 shocked passengers inside the jam-packed flight arguing and pleading with a woman cabin crew after she said the pilot would not be taking off has gone viral on social media. The pilot, meanwhile, is seen closing the cockpit door while angry flyers were calling out to him. The flight (6E 361) was finally flown hours later by a different pilot and reached Bengaluru five hours later.

Confirming the incident, Indigo in a statement, said, "Flight 6E 361 scheduled to operate from Pune to Bengaluru on September 24, 2024, was delayed due to operational reasons related to flight duty time limitations. Customers were kept informed about the delay and our team was available throughout the duration to assist customers. We apologise for any inconvenience caused."

An aviation source told TNIE, "The pilot was completely in the right. There is a fixed number of hours for a pilot to fly on a daily basis. If he is caught violating that, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation can take him off duty, conduct an inquiry, and levy a high penalty on him."

Aviation expert Captain Mohan Ranganathan said flying hours are fixed as the fatigue aspect comes into the picture. "In the case of any mishap with the pilot found exceeding duty hours, the insurance companies will refuse to pay either for the pilot or the aircraft."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

05TH October : In all ancient lore the sky is packed with meaning. The regular stars indicate those things which stay the same, such as 'I am a person'. The Sun, Moon and planets describe things which change and make us different, such as this person is practical and that one is a dreamer. And that is why it is important to know that today favours practical people, while tomorrow smiles on dreamers.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's a typical day for a spot of shopping, for hunting out the best bargains. There's nothing like disposing of your ill-gotten gains in the pursuit of happiness. Psychologically speaking, though, the stars are advising you to value yourself more in the future.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
After a lot of negative responses and criticism, you may at last be able to relax and appre-ciate partners' good wishes. Family members may be whipped back into line at your convenience. Late afternoon and evening favour intimate chats, short trips or a romantic dalliance.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
The Moon will arrive in a favourable and passionate position in the nick of time. All confusion, uncertainty and lost causes should be cleared up then. You'll begin to feel much happier about the way family relationships and events at home are heading.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Life is shrouded in mystery - and something seems to be perplexing you. If you have any say in the matter, do make inquiries of family members, for they may be in the know. Make time for a little quiet reflection and recharge your spiritual batteries.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Socially your stars are suddenly looking extremely bright. I suspect strongly that you may meet someone rather special, but you may feel pulled in two directions. Leave difficult choices until later, for tomorrow if you wish, because there might still be secret information to emerge.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Take your bearings and give yourself plenty of time if professional affairs intrude on your private life. It may be a family member who is contemplating a step forward and could do with a spot of advice. You might have to follow through with practical help, so make sure you've got the spare time.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
There are a couple of very powerful planetary aspects horning in on a prominent region of your chart. The obvious consequence should be a very pleasant, long journey, perhaps not straight away, but within the month. Think about where you'd like to go, and start planning.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There is simply no way that you can keep a secret any longer. Take a fresh look at what you're doing with your money. You can break with past habits, but don't shock people unnecessarily, especially if they've been good to you. And give a younger relation the benefit of the doubt - within reason.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You cannot possibly expect other people to fall in with your plans without question. At last partners will begin to ask exactly how, why and when. If money is involved, then listen to their every word. Not everything they say makes sense, but some of it does - so pay attention!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Any feelings of remorse or anger should be dealt with now. Not only will you discover your tongue, but you'll also realise what you really want to say. Don't rush it though, as the chances are that you'll be altering your personal opinions more than once over the next three weeks.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
A family and routine-bound day should give way to a more enjoyable evening. Make a point of enjoying yourself. It could be very useful for your morale, and hence your whole state of being, to throw caution to the wind: that's the only way to discover where your limits lie.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Get out and about today, and contact people on the spur of the moment. Evening reminds you of the importance of home and family connections and you may resolve that a fresh start is finally needed: just because someone else hasn't taken the initiative, that doesn't mean that you should sit on your hands and do nothing.

A team of doctors from Ballari Institute of Medical Science have recommended a surgery for actor Darshan Thoogudeepa, who is lodged in the Ballari Central Prison in the Renukaswamy murder case. The doctors examined Darshan after he complained of swelling in his lower back. Darshan is said to have told that he will get the surgery done only after returning to Bengaluru

Food Safety Dept to test garlic, sweet samples

Usage of additives in cakes 10-16 times above limit; production of sweetmeats filthy: Food safety commissioner

RISHITA KHANNA @ Bengaluru

AFTER cracking down on bakeries for alleged excessive use of additives and colouring, the Food Safety and Standards Department of Karnataka has now picked up multiple samples of garlic after numerous complaints that "Chinese garlic" is being mixed with organic garlic and is being sold across the state.

As Chinese garlic is banned because of its high pesticide content, the department conducted a mass survey over the last three days and have sent the samples to labs for tests.

A FSSAI official said Chinese garlic is harmful because of potential contamination with pesticides and heavy metals.

"This variety is being exported from Afghanistan and is usually treated with chemicals that cause liver damage, gastrointestinal issues and weakened immune function," the official added.

Additionally, with Dasara around the corner, the department has also started collecting samples of sweets.

"Even at some of the best shops across the state and city, inspections revealed that the preparation and storage practices were shockingly filthy," an official said. Excessive amounts of colours are used that leave hands stained for days, raising serious concerns over food safety and hygiene, he added.

On the recent inspections which revealed that popular varieties of cake like red velvet and black forest contain cancer-causing ingredients, Food Safety Commissioner Srinivas K told TNIE that inspections of various cake samples revealed "highly unsanitary and pathetic" preparation methods, with additive usage exceeding permissible limits by 10-16 times in most cases.

"Consuming a single slice of such a cake loaded with that high chemical is beyond harmful and is like ingesting more chemicals in one bite than one would consume from eating cake for an entire year," the commissioner said.

After the Tirupati laddu incident, the department had recently collected ghee samples from across the state. While detailed reports are awaited, officials told TNIE that the majority of the samples were safe for consumption.

3 engineering colleges receive bomb threat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

MS Ramaiah Institute of Technology which received the bomb threat on Friday | ALLEN EGENUSE J

THREE engineering colleges in the city received bomb threat emails on Friday morning, stating that hydrogen-based improvised explosive devices are planted on their premises. After a thorough check by the police, bomb detection and disposal squad and sniffer squads, it was declared that the threat was a hoax as no explosives were found in the college premises.

The email was sent to the official email IDs of the respective institutions' principals at 7.19 am. The threat email was sent to Bangalore Institute of Technology in VV Puram, BMS College of Engineering in Basavanagudi and Ramaiah College. The VV Puram, Hanumanthanagar and Sadashivanagar police have registered cases in this regard.

"BDDS and Anti Sabotage Check teams checked the premises and found it to be a hoax threat email," said an officer. The threat email was sent from s_ve_sekar@hotmail.com to the principals of these three colleges, following which the college management informed the jurisdictional police.

"Hydrogen based improvised EDs have been placed in the listed colleges by Pak ISI cells from Kovai. Evacuate by 5 pm. Check under benches for glued devices and call BDSS," the threat email read.

The police are further investigating to trace the person behind the emails.

HC stays order against Ola

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE division bench of Karnataka High Court on Friday stayed the order passed by a single judge, who held that the relationship between ANI Technologies Private Limited (Ola) and its drivers is that of employee-employer, and hence Ola has to take action against drivers when receiving complaints of sexual harassment against them.

A vacation division bench of Justice S R Krishna Kumar and Justice M G Uma passed the interim order after hearing the writ appeal filed by the Ola against the order passed by a single judge on September 30.

The single judge had also directed Ola and its Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) to pay Rs 5 lakh compensation, in addition to payment of Rs 50,000 litigation expenses to the petitioner, who is the victim of sexual harassment by a cab driver, for deliberate negligence and inaction on her complaint.

The single judge had passed the order while partly allowing the petition filed by the victim against the inaction of Ola, and ICC in taking action against the driver under the provisions of the Sexual Harassment of Women at Work Place (Prevention, Prohibition and Redressal) Act, 2013, (PoSH Act) on the purported premises of it lacking jurisdiction as the drivers are not employees.

Senior advocate Dhyan Chinnappa, representing Ola, argued before the division bench that the finding of the single judge about the employee-employer relationship between the company and drivers was erroneous as the drivers use the Ola platform only for cab service by registering.

Drunken brawl: Carpenter killed by two ex-colleagues

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 22-year-old carpenter from Bihar was murdered in MICO Layout police station limits on Thursday night around 8 pm. The incident happened inside an interior plywood shop located in Bilekahalli of Kuttappa Layout.

The victim has been identified as Sujeeth. He was reportedly murdered by his former colleagues hailing from Bihar. He was earlier working in the plywood shop and was terminated from work as he would come to work under the influence of alcohol.

On Thursday night, he came to his previous workplace under the influence of alcohol. Four persons were working in the plywood shop of whom two had gone outside. The two accused were working inside. Sujeeth picked a fight with the two accused and during the heated argument, the accused are suspected to have attacked him with a wooden plank. In a fit of rage, the accused also smothered him. Fearing that they would be caught, the duo escaped from the spot. Two other employees who had gone outside learnt about the murder after returning. They then immediately alerted their owner.

In a swift operation, the police have apprehended both the accused, and are waiting for the postmortem report to ascertain the exact cause of death. The victim who is addicted to alcohol reportedly picked fights with his colleagues. Further investigations are on.

RIFT OVER MONEY LEADS TO DOUBLE MURDER

Madikeri: A double murder was reported from Kudumangalore Panchayat limits in Kushalnagar taluk on Thursday night. The accused were arrested by the Kushalnagar police. Joseph, Vasanth, and Girish are residents of Kudluru in Kudumangalore panchayat limits. The three were good friends, and carried out welding work on a freelance basis. According to sources, they fought over Rs 2000 and the rift turned into assault.

24-year-old labourer killed, three injured in wall collapse

Bengaluru: A 24-year-old labourer died on the spot while three other labourers including a woman sustained injuries after a compound wall collapsed on them during a pipe laying work. The incident happened at Bommasandra Industrial Area in Hebbagodi police station limits on Thursday. The victim is from Raichur. The victim, identified as Parashuram, is a native of Devadurga in Raichur. He reportedly died on the spot. Parashuram along with few others were digging a trench for laying a pipeline. The dilapidated six feet hollow block compound fell on the labourers who were working next to it. The injured were rushed to a nearby hospital in an ambulance. The Hebbagodi police are investigating the case.

Woman software engineer jumps from 5th floor of PG in Whitefield

Bengaluru: Leaving behind a death note, a 25-year-old woman software engineer died by suicide, after jumping from the fifth floor of a paying guest accomodation in Whitefield police limits on Thursday. The victim, Gowthami, took the extreme step at around 7 pm. The incident occurred at Prashanth Layout. The victim, hailing from Kadapa in Andhra Pradesh, was working at an IT firm in the city. The victim in her death note has reportedly requested that no investigation be conducted into her death and her body be handed over to her parents. She stated that nobody is responsible for her death. The body was handed over to her parents on Friday after the postmortem. The police are ascertaining the reasons behind her death.

WAS GIRL SMOTHERED WITH PILLOW?

Shruthi brought her home after work. Gargi's mother and her aunt took her to the BDA Complex at Banashankari in the evening. After returning home, Gargi is said to have gone to sleep around 10.30pm. Murulidhar, who returned home from office at night, is said to have gone to sleep around 1.30 am on May 23.

Shruthi claims to have first tried to wake up her daughter around 6.15 am. As there was no response, she assumed that her daughter must be sleeping. Gargi did not respond when her mother tried to wake her up again at 7 am," a police officer said.

The case has been handed over to the jurisdictional Assistant Commissioner of Police (ACP). The police suspect that a pillow might have been used to smother the girl to death.

BYPOLL FEVER HOTS UP IN CHANNAPATNA

Kumaraswamy meets BJP top brass along with son Nikhil, DKS ups campaign, launches various projects

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

EVEN as the Election Commission of India (ECI) is yet to announce the dates for the bypolls to Channapatna Assembly constituency, hectic political activities have begun in Karnataka.

While Union Minister and state Janata Dal-Secular president HD Kumaraswamy held deliberations with BJP Karnataka in-charge Dr Radha Mohan Das Agrawal in New Delhi on Thursday, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) chief and DyCM DK Shivakumar on Friday announced projects worth over Rs 300 crore for Channapatna constituency.

"The date for the bypolls will be announced in the next one week. We are not thinking about the candidate. I request our voters to think that I am the candidate and vote. I request the voters to see my face and vote instead of the candidate," Shivakumar appealed to the electorate at a public function organised to lay foundation stone for various projects. He claimed that the State Government has distributed 5,000 houses to the eligible beneficiaries, with each gram panchayat getting 100-150 houses. Shivakumar said that development works would be taken up in each panchayat of Channapatna taluk with an allocation of Rs 2-5 crore.

DyCM DK Shivakumar addresses a gathering at Makali village in Channapatna on Friday | PIC: X

Stakes are high for both Kumaraswamy and Shivakumar in Channapatna — a Vokkaliga bastion in the Old Mysuru region. The seat fell vacant following the resignation of Kumaraswamy after he was elected to the Lok Sabha from Mandya earlier this year.

According to informed sources, Kumaraswamy, along with his son and JDS youth wing chief Nikhil, met Agrawal. "Kumaraswamy will campaign for BJP candidates in the bypolls to Sandur and Shiggaon constituencies as per the agreement," a source told The New Indian Express.

Although JDS sources have categorically said that Nikhil will not contest the bypolls, it cannot be totally ruled out, say party insiders. Shivakumar's younger brother and former Bengaluru Rural MP, DK Suresh, is likely to be the Congress candidate.

With the name of former minister and BJP MLC CP Yogeshwar doing the rounds for the NDA ticket, Kumaraswamy is not ready to accept the former as candidate from Channapatna. "How can he be fielded on a JDS ticket as he (Yogeshwar) masterminded and brought down the governments led by HD Kumaraswamy and BS Yediyurappa in the past," a JDS leader said.

According to sources, Yogeshwar is unlikely to contest as an independent if he missed the NDA ticket. "But we have to wait and watch if the Congress inducts Yogeshwar at the last minute," said a political analyst.

CM: DECISION ON CASTE CENSUS REPORT AFTER TALKS WITH MINISTER, CABINET

KOPPAL: CM Siddaramaiah on Friday said the government has received the caste census report and will take an appropriate decision on making it public after consulting with the minister concerned and discussions within the cabinet. On Congress MLA Basavaraj Rayareddy's comments that the report would be implemented, Siddaramaiah said that while he respects Rayareddy's opinion, he is planning to meet Minister for Backward Classes Shivaraj Tangadagi next week to discuss the issue. On internal reservations among SCs, he acknowledged the Supreme Court's ruling on the issue and said that any decisions will be based on broader discussions with the party's leadership and within the cabinet. On Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy criticising his party MLA GT Devegowda's statement that Siddaramaiah need not resign, the CM said that Devegowda, as the chairman of the JDS core committee, is entitled to his views. "Both BJP and JDS fear that my governance will weaken their parties," he claimed. ENS

Byre Gowda says let BJP leaders step down first

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda said here on Friday that all those demanding Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's resignation should first put in their papers to set a new benchmark in public life.

Those in politics and public life should make responsible comments on mere allegations, he said. Clarifying that one need not resign soon after an FIR is registered, he said those against whom FIRs are registered, chargesheets filed and bail granted should also quit. He criticised that opposition leaders, who have FIRs registered against them, are demanding the CM's resignation. "Let there be a common law and opposition leaders should set an example by resigning first before preaching others. That will give them the moral authority to seek the CM's resignation," he added.

> Let there be a common law and opposition leaders should set an example by resigning first before preaching others
>
> Krishna Byre Gowda

He lashed out at Assembly opposition leader R Ashoka for getting the BDA-acquired land denotified after 22 years and alleged that Ashoka bought the land before it was denotified. The applicant for the BDA land, Ramaswamy, was in no way connected with the plot, but Ashoka got it denotified within ten days, causing a huge loss to the BDA exchequer, he charged.

On Siddaramaiah's wife Pravathy returning the sites to MUDA, he said it is a personal decision. He maintained that it was not denotified land and MUDA had given 14 sites as compensation for acquiring 3 acres 16 guntas of land.

On JDS MLA GT Devegowda saying Siddaramaiah need not resign, Byre Gowda said the two have grown up together and have known each other for decades.

Ashoka says BJP is not bringing down Siddu govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chitradurga

ASSEMBLY opposition leader R Ashoka said here on Friday that BJP will not bring down the state government. But on opposition BJP and JDS collecting documents against the government, he said it is Congress leaders who are providing the information and trying to destabilise their own government.

"Congress leaders are seeking my resignation. I am ready to resign within 24 hours, if Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is also ready to quit," he challenged.

> I am ready to resign within 24 hours, if Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is also ready to quit

He alleged that the Congress government has politicised Mysuru Dasara by not recognising the services of Wadiyars of the erstwhile Mysuru royal family in the development of the state.

He said Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar has alleged that Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy is taking out a walkathon to protect his post. Shivakumar's statement exposes fears of losing his own chair, he added. He dared Congress to reveal the names of 14 MLAs, whom BJP is targeting for its Operation Lotus.

He said JDS MLA GT Devegowda praised Chief Minister Siddaramaiah at the inauguration of Dasara programme in Mysuru, like how Telangana Congress CM Revanth Reddy praised Prime Minister Narendra Modi at an event in Telangana. He said the socio-economic-educational survey, also known as caste census, should be implemented immediately, and wondered why the census which was ready in 2013 is still being withheld. Coming up with his own answer, he said it is because Vokkaliga and Lingayat ministers within the Congress government are against its implementation. "BJP is not opposing the census, but wants it done in a more scientific way," he said.

'All thieves have united': Snehamayi lambasts GTD for supporting CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru

A day after JDS MLA GT Devegowda came out in support of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah, activist Snehamayi Krishna—one of the complainants in the MUDA case—delivered a sharp rebuttal, accusing the legislator and others of "forming a coalition to protect each other." Speaking to media persons near the Lokayukta office in Mysuru on Friday, Krishna likened the group to "thieves uniting."

Krishna called Devegowda's statements during the Dasara inauguration "inappropriate."

Considered to be a political archrival of Siddaramaiah, Devegowda, a former minister, on Thursday questioned the need for the former to resign. He had said that there was no need for the CM to resign just because an FIR was registered.

Meanwhile, Krishna further alleged that Devegowda's sudden public support of Siddaramaiah was driven by fear of impending investigations into his role in the MUDA row.

"It's natural for thieves to unite when they need to protect each other. Devegowda's support for Siddaramaiah on such a sacred occasion signals his involvement in the 50:50 scam in MUDA," Krishna said,

Krishna also claimed to have submitted a detailed 500-page document to the Directorate of Enforcement (ED). He indicated that this information pertained to alleged illegal land transactions and money laundering activities in MUDA, implicating several influential figures.

Meanwhile, on Friday, Krishna accompanied the Lokayukta police and revenue officials to conduct a spot inspection of the 14 sites in Vijayanagar Phase 3 and 4, allegedly registered in the name of Siddaramaiah's wife Parvathy.

Siddaramaiah had lost to Devegowda from Chamundeshwari in the 2018 Assembly elections.

'Change of guard' topic comes to the fore as Satish meets Kharge in Delhi

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR @Belagavi

EVEN as the Congress high command has said that there will not be any change of guard in Karnataka over the MUDA imbroglio, a few prominent Dalit and Backward Classes party leaders have started chalking out strategies with an eye on the top post in the event of the possible exit of Siddaramaiah in the next few weeks.

This comes at a time when the Opposition BJP contends that Siddaramaiah's exit is imminent given the unfolding political development over the MUDA controversy.

And some of the latest political developments unfolding in this connection add credence to it. PWD Minister Satish Jarkiholi, an AHINDA leader who has admitted on several occasions of his aspirations to become the CM, met AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in New Delhi on Thursday, merely two weeks after the duo met.

A section of top leaders from Congress could rally behind Satish or Kharge for the top post and another group may support Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara in the event of a Dalit or a Backward Classes leader replacing Siddaramaiah, informed sources said. A few months ago, Dr Parameshwara and Satish met at the residence of Minister HC Mahadevappa.

Two days ago, Satish had reacted to a question on the possible change of guard in the state by saying, "We don't have Plan B but our Plan C is ready."

On the other hand, several Backward Classes leaders, including Satish, are supporting Kharge if the party wants a Dalit as the CM. Dr Parameshwara, too, has the support of many legislators, sources added.

In Nipani on Friday, Satish did not reveal what he discussed with Kharge in New Delhi and told reporters that it was just a courtesy call. "My meeting with Khargeji should not be treated as something else," Satish said, adding that he, however, discussed a few political issues with the senior leader.

However, Satish said Siddaramaiah will continue as the CM and also fight the legal battle. "The party is not worried about the ED case against the CM," he said, adding that the truth would come out eventually.

MY TAKE

It's we the people who can solve our own civic problems

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

CONGESTED roads; potholed roads; littered public spaces; thoughtlessly designed flyovers and subways; lack of proper signage for road directions or information; public urination and spitting... the list goes on and on. This is our city — Namma Bengaluru.

Reams have been written about it, but a solution fails to rise over the horizon. Only suggestions and ideas keep floating, which seem great, but whether they would help, and in what way, remains unclear. It is only making the average Bengalurean more cynical over the "hell hole" we have allowed to be created to live in.

Take congested roads, for instance. On Thursday, Mohandas Pai, Chairman, Manipal Global Education Services (MaGE) and advisor, Manipal Education & Medical Group (MEMG), who is also the former Chief Financial Officer of Infosys, suggested creating a "digital twin" of Bengaluru to track road congestion over the last five years, study the causes, and analyse them. This would reveal where the "hot spots" are in the city, why traffic jams occur, and come up with solutions to prevent congestion on the roads in future. A great idea, which Pai floated at the Move In Sync Mobility Symposium 2024, held in Bengaluru on Thursday, attended by industry leaders, dignitaries, policymakers, among others with an eye on finding mobility solutions for the city.

Why just road congestion, any of the problems mentioned can be addressed nowadays using technology to map, analyse and then find solutions for them — at least idealistically or theoretically. Putting the solutions into practice however is, and will, remain a big challenge — seemingly almost impossible to overcome. But let's not get bogged down assuming it's impossible. We know it is possible to overcome these and actually put solutions in place. You know why? Because the solutions are in us, and should come from us — we the people. Like the push that the citizens and experts, including Pai, made at the Move In Sync Mobility Symposium on Thursday.

There's also another reason — and a crucial one — why solutions have to come from "we the people". While most of the potential solutions are in us, most of the civic problems too originate in us. Either we are directly responsible due to the lack of proper civic behaviour, or indirectly responsible due to our own apathy and indifference towards pressing for our rightful demands for proper civic infrastructure persistently and forcefully, albeit in a civil manner. The latter especially holds true for scientifically laying footpaths, well-designed and sturdy, durable roads; for flyovers that help decongest rather than pose as bottlenecks; for subways that do not flood and claim lives; for signage that do not confuse; for proper streetlighting; for uninterrupted water and power supply; and for security.

But if and when we are granted these, we are directly to blame for our lack of proper civic behaviour, which results in congested roads, littered public spaces, and allowing unhygienic public spaces due to acts of spitting, urinating and nose-blowing, which are among the most disgusting to sight and mind.

It must be remembered that no amount of impressive planning, which may appear sophisticated, can rid our civic problems if the citizen behaviour is not appropriate — definitely not when it is at its nadir, as we daily witness in the city.

If Abraham Lincoln's "Democracy is the government of the people, by the people and for the people" is true in the political sense, perfection in civic machinery and principles too are "of the people, by the people and for the people" — for which appropriate and responsible civic behaviour is imperative.

We keep our homes clean, spic-and-span as much as we can, but leave our civic sense locked behind when we step out. Prevailing civic infrastructure problems are merely complained about, without the citizens coming together and making forceful demands on the government and the civic agencies to ensure that the wrongs are corrected for the city to function smoothly. The need of the hour is for us citizens to step up our civic consciousness and conscience to push hard for what we need in our city — with or without the civic elections.

What holds good for Bengaluru today holds good for all other leading cities and towns in the state. It is only when citizens nurture a feeling of ownership of the city or town they live in, and be empathetic towards each other while motoring, walking or going through their daily routines with a high degree of civic conscience, can we take steps towards erasing the civic maladies that persist today. It is we who can do it!

JDS leader rubbishes realtor's charges, says his phone tapped

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

Former MLC and JDS Bengaluru city unit president, HM Ramesh Gowda, on Friday alleged that his phone was being tapped by the state's Internal Security Division. The JDS leader said he would file a complaint with the police commissioner and an investigation should be conducted.

On Friday, based on realtor Vijay Tata's complaint, the police registered an FIR against Gowda and Union Minister HD Kumaraswamy for allegedly demanding Rs 50 crore from him. Gowda rubbished the allegations and demanded the formation of a Special Investigation Team to ensure justice. Gowda and other JDS leaders protested against the police in front of Amruthalli Police Station in Bengaluru for not filing an FIR despite their complaints against Vijay. "If I file a complaint, it won't be an FIR, if he files, then it will be. I will sit in protest in front of the police station. If I file complaints against all the ministers tomorrow, will they file FIRs against them?" Gowda asked.

Gowda alleged that the CMO and some ministers were putting pressure on Vijay to file a complaint. Gowda and other JDS leaders also protested at the office of the city police commissioner. Gowda expressed frustration over the failure of the Amruthalli police in registering his complaint against Vijay.

SC FORMS NEW SIT TO PROBE LADDU ROW

Probe team will consist of 2 CBI officers, 2 AP cops, one FSSAI official

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday constituted an independent special investigation team (SIT) to probe the allegations that animal fat was used to prepare laddus at Sri Venkateswara temple in Tirupati, in Andhra Pradesh.

The new SIT substitutes the Andhra Pradesh government's probe panel constituted on September 26 to look into the row.

A bench of Justices B R Gavai and K V Viswanathan said the fresh probe team shall have two CBI officers, two Andhra Pradesh police officers, and a senior official of the Food Safety and Standards Authority of India (FSSAI).

The two CBI officers would be nominated by the agency's director while the two officers from the Andhra Pradesh Police would be named by the state government. The FSSAI chairperson would nominate a senior officer to be a part of the SIT, it said. The SIT shall work under the supervision of the CBI director, the bench added.

The SC said it hasn't gone into the merits of allegations and counter allegations on alleged adulteration of the laddus. "We won't allow the Supreme Court to be used for political drama. There are sentiments of crores of people throughout the world," the bench said. The court said its order to set up a fresh probe panel should in no way be construed as any reflection on the independence or the fairness of the officers of the SIT constituted by the state government.

"We are passing order regarding entrustment of this matter to an independent agency consisting of the aforesaid members only to assuage the feelings of crores of people/devotees having faith in the deity," the bench said while disposing of the petitions seeking a court-monitored probe.

SC 'reprimanded' Naidu for 'blatant lies', says Jagan

Vijayawada: Former CM and YSRC chief YS Jagan Mohan Reddy said the Supreme Court had 'reprimanded' CM N Chandrababu Naidu for his 'blatant lies' on the adulteration of Tirumala Laddu Prasadam, which was evident from its orders on September 30 and on October 4. Speaking to mediapersons on Friday evening, Jagan said the apex court pulled up Naidu on September 30, and asked him not to drag the God into politics, and today, it had replaced the State government constituted Special Investigation Team with an independent SIT consisting of two CBI officers to be assisted by two State police officers and one from FSSAI. Condemning the false propaganda of the TDP-led NDA government over the Laddu Prasadam, Jagan opined that there was no need for SIT as nothing had happened in the first place. The Supreme Court had clearly highlighted Naidu's political motives in stirring religious sentiments, and 'warned' him to stop the misuse of religion for politics.

RESERVATION DEBATE

Cong slams Modi for quota remark

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS took strong exception to PM Narendra Modi's reported statement during the Haryana election campaign that the Congress government in Karnataka is taking away the reservation of Dalits and backward classes and giving it to Muslims.

"Karnataka is credited with establishing a constitutionally permanent Backward Classes Commission. Karnataka is ahead of other states in terms of welfare of oppressed classes," said party senior leader HM Revanna, who is the chairman of guarantees implementation committee.

He clarified here on Friday that there is no example of the state taking away the reservation of Dalits and giving it to someone else. "Modi is the leader of lies who never talks about the unity and development of the country, but resorts to gimmickry during elections," he alleged. After the Havanur commission report was implemented, the oppressed classes have got better opportunities. "Former Chief Minister Devaraj Urs' contribution is still remembered," he said.

The state has passed the SCSP/TSP Act, a first in the country, to provide grants to Dalits proportionate to their population. "Dalit reservation has not been taken away and given to OBCs. Reservation is in force even while contract employees are being hired and backlog posts being filled," he said. Senior counsel Dr CS Dwarkanath, who too addressed the media, said Modi is trying to tarnish the image of Karnataka. "After opposing reservation for so many years, now it is BJP which introduced the economically weaker section. If reservation is to be given or removed, a commission's recommendation is required. But Modi gave reservations without any recommendation," he said.

Laxmi: Gruha Lakshmi money to be released soon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

THE installments of July and August months, of the Gruha Lakshmi Scheme, to be paid by the government to women beneficiaries under the state government, will be released on October 7 and 9 respectively and the government funds for the same has already been released, said Women and Child Development Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar.

Hebbalkar said that the government has released Rs 5,000 crore to provide Rs 2,000 each/month to about 1.22 crore beneficiaries. For the arrears of July, the government had set aside Rs 2,500 and another Rs 2,500 for August.

For the past few weeks, the beneficiaries were demanding the release of pending amount, and Hebbalkar said the government was committed to providing the money to women as assured, and the release of the amount was delayed due to various reasons.

Responding to a question, Hebbalkar said it had become a habit for BJP to criticise all the projects and schemes, the Congress government had been implementing in the state.

Further, one-day special package tour facilities for tourists who come from Mysuru to visit Bandipur, Gopalaswamy Hills, BR Hills, Nanjangud and Chamundi Hills will also be operated. These buses will be called 'Giridarshini' and will charge Rs 400 for adults and Rs 250 for children. Similarly, 'Jaladarshini' route buses will cover Golden Temple (Bylakuppe), Dubare Forest, Nisargadhama, Raja Seat, Harangi Reservoir and KRS. The fare in these buses for adults is priced at Rs 450 and Rs 300 for children.

PES gets BEST Centre to upskill engg grads

Bengaluru : To equip engineering graduates with advanced manufacturing skills in contemporary and evolving technology, bridging the gap between academia and industry, the Bajaj Engineering Skills Training (BEST) programme, a CSR initiative of Bajaj Auto Ltd (BAL), was inaugurated at PES University on Friday. The BEST Centre was launched to develop a skilled workforce through practical, hands-on engineering training. Higher Education Minister Dr MC Sudhakar emphasised the importance of creating such centres to upskill students, particularly from Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities. Dr Sudhakar pointed out that this initiative is a call for action for the government and industries, urging them to establish similar state-of-the-art facilities across the state. He also highlighted government programmes such as 'Prerana' and 'Kalike Jote Koushalya', aimed at providing basic skills to youth from rural areas, and shared plans to set up skill development centres in every district of Karnataka. Prof MR Doreswamy, Chancellor of PES University, emphasised that while academic curriculums are often theory-heavy, the BEST programme focuses on hands-on training, ensuring that graduates are industry-ready.

BCU celebrates Gandhi Jayanti

Bengaluru: Bengaluru City University celebrated the 155th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, highlighting the enduring relevance of Gandhi's principles. The event was presided over by Vice-Chancellor Prof Lingaraja Gandhi. Addressing the staff and students, he emphasised the significance of Ahimsa (non-violence) in today's world, particularly in the face of global instability and ongoing conflicts. He pointed out that Gandhi's message of peace during tumultuous times serves as a guiding light, and his relentless efforts to eliminate social inequality, and exploitation, and promote harmony and coexistence continue to be highly relevant today. The event was attended by Registrar (Administration) T Javaregouda, Registrar (Evaluation) Dr C S Anand Kumar, Syndicate members Dr K P Patil and Dr Francis, and coordinator Prof K Shivashankar and others. The university also held a collective campus cleaning drive at the Jnana Jyothi Central College campus, in which the university's teaching and non-teaching staff, students and NSS volunteers took part.

Academic calendar for 2024-25 announced

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE higher education department has announced the affiliation and academic calendar for the academic year 2025-26. The decision comes in response to numerous requests for timely announcements regarding affiliation processes and timelines, ensuring that all stakeholders have adequate preparation time.

The finalised schedule allows for the academic processes to commence in October 2024 and be completed by March or April 2025, facilitating a timely start to classes for the 2025-26 academic year.

The government has issued an order, effective from October 4, to implement this comprehensive academic schedule for Bachelor's and Master's degree programmes.

The proposed academic calendar for undergraduate (UG) and postgraduate (PG) programmes includes key dates such as: Commencement of I semester admissions: April 15, 2025 (UG) and August 19, 2025 (PG); start of I, III and V semester classes: June 9, 2025 (UG) and September 1, 2025 (PG); end of I, III and V semester classes: September 26, 2025, (UG) and December 19, 2025, (PG); practical and theory examinations: Scheduled to begin on September 29, 2025 (UG) and December 22, 2025 (PG).

Additionally, the calendar includes provisions for examinations and evaluations, aligning with UGC guidelines that require a minimum of 90 working days per semester.

In Lakkundi, plastic-free campaign sugar-coated

RAGHOTTAM KOPPAR @ Gadag

LAKKUNDI Gram Panchayat (GP) in Gadag district has come up with a novel idea to make this village of ancient temples plastic-free.

Employees of the GP will offer sugar if villagers give them plastic waste. If villagers give 2kg of plastic waste, they will get 2kg of sugar. If they give 10kg of plastic waste, they will get 10 kg of sugar. This idea came up at a meeting of the panchayat recently and the campaign will start on Saturday. Lakkundi is 12 km from Gadag.

It is believed that Lakkundi once had 101 ancient temples and 101 lakes. But now, only a few of them remain. The village recently received Rs 5.66 crore for its comprehensive development and to make it a major tourism centre in the state. The Tourism Department has prepared a blueprint and the Lakkundi Heritage Area Development Authority has started renovation and restoration work on 13 ancient temples. Two modern toilets and restrooms will be built in the village soon.

Members and employees of the GP will raise awareness among the people on the plastic menace after launching the campaign on Saturday. Their aim is to get the whole village cleaned in a few weeks. They decided to launch this campaign after many efforts to keep Lakkundi clean and tidy failed in the past.

Gram panchayat president KS Pujar said, "We came up with the sugar for plastic waste campaign when people of the village did not cooperate with the GP in implementing the ban on use of plastic items such as carry bags. We have earmarked funds to make this campaign a success. We will soon make Lakkundi a plastic-free village."

Demand for luxury watches fuels smuggling racket

SIDDHARTH PRABHAKAR @Chennai

HIGH-end, rare luxury watches costing up to ₹2 crore, which are a collector's delight, are a big draw among the rich and famous in Chennai and other metros like New Delhi, Mumbai, and Bengaluru. But fewer authorised dealers, limited choice of products, and 40% customs duty on such imported watches fuel smuggling from Hong Kong and Dubai, official sources said.

Information sourced through RTI applications shows that rare watches of brands like Patek Philippe, Breguet, Audemars Piguet, Rolex, Naviforce, Bvlgari, Astronomia Solar Zodiac from Jacob & Co, IWC Big Pilot, Franck Muller and Girard-Perregaux have been seized from passengers landing from abroad at airports like New Delhi and Mumbai in the last few years.

A Patek Philippe and a Breguet totally worth ₹1.7 crore was seized by Chennai Customs from MF Mubeen, a suspected luxury watch dealer, on February 5 this year. The seizure later led to an Enforcement Directorate probe against Telangana revenue minister Ponguleti Srinivasa Reddy's son Harsha Reddy, who was allegedly the buyer. Apple watches, though not as expensive, are also routinely seized by Customs, say sources.

Luxury watch smuggling has its own distinct modus operandi, according to multiple sources in the grey market. The availability of these rare watches is shared by agents on closed Whatsapp or Telegram groups like Dubai watch exchange group, Watch home UK, US watch co, etc.

50 fishermen from TN released by Lanka

PEARSON LENEKAR SR @Tiruchy

FIFTY Tamil Nadu fishermen from Mayiladuthurai, Nagapattinam and Pudukkottai, who were arrested by the Sri Lankan Navy on different occasions, were released by Lankan courts on Friday. While four other fishermen were fined, one more was jailed. The development comes amid External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar's day-long visit to the island nation and a week after Chief Minister M K Stalin met Prime Minister M K Stalin in New Delhi and personally requested him to take steps to get the arrested Tamil fishers released by Sri Lanka. Jaishankar is the first foreign dignitary to visit Sri Lanka since the National People's Power (NPP) government led by President Anura Kumara Dissanayake came to power on September 23.

The official handle of the Indian High Commission in Colombo said in a post on X, "50 Indian fishermen from Mayiladuthurai, Pudukottai and Nagapattinam have been released today (Friday) and will be repatriated from Sri Lanka to Tamil Nadu later this week."

Of the released fishers, 37 are from Mayiladuthurai and they were arrested near Nedunntheevu on September 21. One mechanised boat and two country boats were also seized. On Friday, after their remand period had ended, the fishers were produced before the Paruthithirai court (Point Pedro court). The judge, after the hearing, ordered the release of all 37.

Boy survives leopard attack in Ballari village

Ballari: An eight-year-old boy was injured after a leopard attacked him at Metri village of Kampli taluk in Ballari district on Thursday. According to the police, the injured boy has been identified as Ashok. He has sustained injuries in the abdomen, leg and other parts of the body. The incident occurred near a Hanuman temple when Ashok went to an agricultural land to feed sheep. Some of his relatives who were present at the spot hit the leopard with some weapons

21 red sanders logs, 2 vehicles seized, 6 held

Nellore: The Red Sanders Anti-Smuggling Task Force (RSASTF) seized 21 red sander logs, two vehicles and arrested six individuals involved in smuggling near Atmakur in Nellore district. Several individuals were found loading red sandalwood logs into Bolero vehicles in the Ananthasagaram forest. The task force surrounded the smugglers and arrested six individuals. Among them, three were identified as residents of Vellore in Tamil Nadu.

Khandre: Elephant camp in Bhadra sanctuary soon

Shivamogga: Forest, Ecology, and Environment Minister Eshwar B Khandre announced the establishment of an elephant camp in Bhadra Wildlife Sanctuary to tackle the wild elephant menace affecting parts of Shivamogga, Hassan, and Chikkamagaluru districts. "I have asked the PCCF (Wildlife) Subhash Malkhede to prepare a proposal for the establishment of a 2,000-hectare elephant soft-relief centre to mitigate these issues," he said.

Migrant labourer held for sexually abusing 5-yr-old

Malappuram: Nilambur Police on Friday arrested a migrant worker for allegedly sexually abusing a 5-year-old girl, daughter of a migrant labourer. The arrested is a 53-year-old man from Odisha. According to police, the suspect, who was a neighbour of the girl, abused her in the evening on Thursday. He took her to his residence by promising to give her chips. The girl later told the mother about the abuse and the mother informed the police.

GEOPOLITICS ROILS MARKET, MORE BUMPS ON THE ROAD AHEAD

IT seems that for stock markets, if it's not one thing, it's another. Investors were barely relieved for avoiding a flash crash last month following the US Federal Reserve's larger-than-expected interest rate cut. But that joy was short-lived as rising tensions between Iran and Israel this week gripped global markets in fear. On Thursday, indices across Europe and Asia incurred significant losses, while Sensex and Nifty lost more than 2 percent each, suffering their worst intraday falls in two months. As the total market capitalisation of the BSE companies plunged to ₹465 lakh crore, it wiped off as much as ₹10 lakh crore of investors' wealth in a day. It's now crucial that the escalation in West Asia is contained at the earliest; else it could bring about another significant fallout—high crude oil prices.

Global oil prices have already surged as much as 5 percent on Thursday to $75 per barrel from the week's start. If the prices continue to firm up, they will spell fresh trouble for countries like India, which imports more than 80 percent of its oil. Higher prices translate to a bigger import bill and a wider current account deficit, which is anyways expected to increase to 1 percent in 2024-25. Investors are also worried about the recent resurgence in Chinese stocks, which could prompt an outflow of funds from India. Chinese stocks have been underperforming in recent years; but last week saw a strong rally as Beijing rolled out a substantial stimulus package to goose its economy.

Apart from geopolitical concerns, domestic factors have contributed to Thursday's crash, too. Last week, market watchdog Sebi rolled out six new measures to tame speculative retail trading in the risky futures and options segment, which analysts believe could affect trading volumes. Concerned over these prevailing factors, the Sensex shed over 3,300 points in just four trading sessions as foreign investors pulled out as much as ₹32,000 crore from Indian markets. Even if the situation in West Asia gets somewhat under control over the next few weeks, the current quarter may still be a testing time for markets given the upcoming state elections, the September earnings season, the RBI's monetary policy review and the outcome of the US presidential elections in November. Investors should exercise extreme caution at the moment.

RESOLVE FISHERS vs WAQF BOARD ISSUE AMICABLY

A coastal village in Kerala is in the eye of a storm as a long-standing dispute between fishermen, who are mostly Christians, and the Waqf Board is getting flared up. The village in the picture is Munambam in Ernakulam district. The origins of the issue can be traced back to the colonial period, when the ruler of Travancore in 1902 allocated 404 acres of land and 60 acres of waterbodies to Abdul Sathar Musa Haji Seth, a merchant who had relocated to Kochi from Gujarat, solely for agricultural development. In 1950, Musa Haji Seth's successor Sidhique transferred the land to the management committee of Farooq College in Kozhikode. As the leased area included lands of fishermen too, there have been disputes ever since.

The issue settled for a while with the high court ruling in favour of the college in 1975 and locals started buying land from the college. In 2022, the issue flared up again as a resident was disallowed to pay tax because the land in question had been designated as Waqf Board property. This began the current dispute culminating in widespread protests and more than five cases pending before the high court.

The issue has now acquired strong communal colours and is regularly getting played up. Two prominent Christian organisations—the Syro-Malabar Church and the Kerala Catholic Bishop Council—have written to a joint parliamentary committee that properties belonging to Christian families for generations have been unlawfully claimed by the Waqf Board. The villagers have lived there for over a century, the Church has insisted, seeking immediate intervention by the Union government. Minority affairs minister Kiren Rijiju has assured proper justice, promptly responding that the issue of Waqf land has been affecting people across communities. The Waqf Board, on its part, has been maintaining a guarded silence. So are the leading political parties in the state except the BJP.

Meanwhile, the issue is getting more vitriolic and communal. Malicious rumours are being spread by both sides, affecting the secular fabric of the state to a great extent. It is high time that all political parties and the authorities sat together and amicably solved the issue. Otherwise, it has the potential for a larger conflagration that must be avoided.

QUICK TAKE

NO CASTE BEHIND BARS

THOUGH it has come decades too late, the Supreme Court's order that there should be no caste discrimination in prisons is welcome. If the Constitution instructs the justice system to be unprejudiced on caste and religion, it should follow that our prisons be free of such bias, too. The specific address of "entrenched" discriminations against marginalised communities in the verdict underlined the abiding nature of such practices. Also welcome is the quashing of related rules in the jail manuals of at least 10 states. Not only does the Model Prison Manual of 2016 need to be updated, but the states need to adopt it to ensure uniformity in administration.

The Supreme Court rightly addressed devotees' sentiments on the question of adulterated ghee used at Tirupati. The temple trust needs to institute systemic changes to avoid a repeat

WHY LADDUGATE NEEDS MEASURES BEYOND ORDINARY

BALBIR PUNJ

Author of the recently published Tryst with Ayodhya: Decolonisation of India

MANOAR PARDIKAR

THE Supreme Court hit the nail on the head on Friday while ordering a special investigative team's probe into allegations of contaminated ghee used in the making of the laddus given as prasadam to devotees at the Hindu shrine at Tirupati. The top court observed it was passing the order "to assuage the feelings of crores of devotees".

On September 19, Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister Chandrababu Naidu quoted a National Dairy Development Board report alleging that the ghee used to prepare the world-famous laddu at the Sri Venkateswara Swami temple was contaminated with fish oil, beef tallow and lard (pig fat).

This news came down as a tonne of bricks on countless devotees. While many know-alls dismissed the sordid episode as a "non-issue", there were whiz-kids for whom it was one more move on the political chess board. Undoubtedly, the egregious controversy has far wider ramifications beyond the usual power matrix and murky account books of unscrupulous businessmen. As the Supreme Court observed, countless devotees' trust and religious sensitivities are at stake.

The top court's observation at the previous hearing of the case on September 30—that adulterated ghee wasn't used in the prasadam—had brought tremendous relief to believers, who must have been writhing in guilt, pain and hurt after the contamination story had gone viral. The court had said the laddus were not contaminated; the ghee was.

It's a matter of satisfaction that the contaminated ghee wasn't used. But the fact that an effort was made to do so is equally disturbing. What's worse, many of those who have appropriated the platform of secularism tried to trivialise the issue. Their concern wasn't that some vile characters had tried to hurt the sensitivities of the devotees. They were instead worried that the nationalists (read: the BJP and RSS) might take political advantage of this controversy.

The feelings of devotees on these unsavoury developments were mixed, ranging from disbelief to utter helplessness. There was hardly any ruction, which one often sees in India over lesser issues. What is the reason for this? Perhaps, after centuries of oppression, the sensitivity of the Hindu society has dulled. Acquiescing to injustice and putting up with indignities has probably become a second nature to Hindus.

When the British, with help from the communists and Muslim League stormtroopers, partitioned the country in August 1947, millions trudged to the residual India, leaving behind their ancestral homes and life savings. Lakhs of innocent Hindus and Sikhs fell victim to frenzied mobs and lost their lives. The larger Hindu society didn't react. The refugees began to rebuild their lives. They even politically and socially accepted the very class responsible for forcing such a bloody partition on the country sans any warning.

Mahatma Gandhi recognised this escapist facet of the Hindu mindset. During the communal riots in the wake of the Khilafat movement (1919-24), when the movement's activists targeted Hindus in a big way, he called the Muslims "bullies" and Hindus "cowards" in an article published in Young India in May 1924. The first significant instance of Hindu insensitivity in independent India occurred during the 1980s and 1990s, when Kashmiri Pandits in the valley were targeted by Islamic zealots, many of them financed and trained by Pakistan. An entire community of five lakh people was forced to flee their ancestral homes and reduced to refugees in their country. None even blinked.

Nearly a decade later, on February 27, 2002, jihadists burnt alive 59 kar sevaks in a train coach near the Godhra railway station in Gujarat. There wasn't any significant reaction inside or outside parliament the following day. A prestigious English daily's editorial even blamed the Hindu victims, stating that they had invited the tragedy upon themselves by provokingly chanting "Jai Shri Ram" in a Muslim-majority area while returning from their pilgrimage to Ayodhya.

In December 1963, a relic Muslims believed to be Prophet Muhammad's hair—the Moi-e-Muqqadas—was reported missing from the Hazratbal shrine in Srinagar. The rumour of its theft spread like wildfire. In Pakistan and across Kashmir and the rest of India, millions of Muslims began protests and demonstrations.

The then Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru sent senior minister Lal Bahadur Shastri and chief of the Intelligence Bureau Bholanath Mullick to Kashmir to handle the situation. In January 1964, the Moi-e-Muqqadas was found. According to Mullick, when he informed Nehru of the recovery, the latter remarked, "You have saved Kashmir for India." Nehru's comment highlights that issues related to faith cannot always be addressed with ordinary administrative measures or legal processes, as their consequences for the nation can be far-reaching.

In several states across India, thousands of temples, including the one at Tirupati, are managed by state governments. Sri Venkateswara Swami is an ancient shrine. It's a spiritual institution and a symbol of social harmony. The day in the temple begins with the chanting of 'Suprabhatam', when the lord is awakened. The Yadavas have the privilege of having the first darshan after 'Suprabhatam' because of a boon believed to be granted by Lord Vishnu to a cowherd.

The pilgrims climbing the hill also visit a shrine at Alapiri. This statue is dedicated to Chinnaiah, a Dalit cobbler. Legend has it that he decided to stitch a pair of slippers for his lord one day. Although he procured the necessary materials, he wasn't sure of the size of the lord's feet; so he placed a sheet covered with flour in front of the lord and prayed all night. Impressed by his devotion, the lord put his feet on the flour and made footprints. The next day, Chinnaiah saw the footprints, stitched the slippers and carried them on his head to present them to the lord.

Tirumala Tirupati Devasthanams, which manages the Tirupati shrine, is the country's wealthiest temple trust, valued at $36 billion. The pertinent question is: why can't it have a transparent tendering process for the supply chain and set up a modern laboratory to test the quality of ingredients used daily? There has hardly been any discussion on systemic improvement even after the worrying revelations.

WHEN GREEN PARK SANG THE CAWNPORE BLUES

MADHAVAN NARAYANAN

Senior journalist

REVERSE SWING

WHENEVER I hear of Kanpur or think of the city, it brings back memories of a Bob Dylan song, 'North Country Blues', made famous by Joan Baez's plaintive voice. Its moving lyrics and sorrowful melody speak woefully of a city fallen on bad days: "Come gather 'round friends and I'll tell you a tale / Of when the red iron pits ran aplenty / But the cardboard-filled windows and old men on the benches / Tell you now that the whole town is empty."

And so it was last week when I heard of something that smelt of the town's has-been status. Though India beat Bangladesh comfortably to go 2-0 up in the current Test cricket series, the city's Green Park stadium got bad press for its poor drainage that washed out two full days of play despite there being no rain. The washout belied the ground's fashionable name that reminds of its rich past before independence and its glory as an industrial town for at least a couple of decades after the end of colonial rule.

Only 10 Tests have been played in Kanpur in the past 40 years against roughly as many in the previous 20, symbolising the decline of the ground that was a regular Test venue in the 1970s and the first half of the 1980s. This is in spite of India playing more Tests per year nowadays. Kanpur was once ahead of even Bengaluru that hosted its first Test only in 1974.

One thing that has certainly changed is that Green Park no longer hosts dull batting pitches. There was a time when a Kanpur Test meant loads of runs on a batsman-friendly wicket. As many as eight of the 10 Tests played at the ground between 1959 and 1979 ended in a draw. It is good to see wickets tumbling in Green Park alongside its reputation as a well-maintained ground.

The UP government this year announced an IT park in Kanpur with an investment of more than ₹5,800 crore, projected to create 2,50,000 jobs. I will believe it when I see it. For me, Kanpur is the heart of India's northern country and just the bluesy equivalent of Dylan's ballad linked to his childhood days in Minnesota. My visits to the city, though I have not been there in a decade, mostly remind me of its glorious past. The drainage fiasco only confirms its fallen state.

Yet, Kanpur is also the city that has an Indian Institute of Technology whose computer science course was legendary in an era when there was no such thing called a personal computer. Only the highest rankers in the cut-throat joint entrance examination for the IITs could make it to the sprawling campus at IIT-K.

WIKIMEDIA COMMONS

The recent washed-out Test and fewer matches played at Kanpur's Green Park cricket stadium symbolise the city's decline from being an industrial powerhouse. The city, which boasted of large tobacco and leather companies from before independence, is losing out to Noida, which is dreaming of being a tech hub

The cricket ground and the IIT stand testimony of days when textile, leather and other manufacturing industries caused the city to be called the 'leather city of the world' and the 'Manchester of the east'.

With an estimated population of 63 lakh now, Kanpur is like the ageing, abandoned wife of a decadent prince from Uttar Pradesh's declining royal clans, while Noida, with its broad avenues, is like a pampered new mistress as it awaits its first international flight from a spanking new airport slated to open next year and connect the national capital region.

New technologies, feuding Marwari entrepreneur families and rampant trade unionism caused the decline of Kanpur as an industrial hub, much like ye olde Calcutta. Like the eastern city that was once British India's imperial capital, Kanpur's history is alluring. Its old buildings and smokestack factories invoke poetic thoughts. Like the anglicised Calcutta, the city was once called Cawnpore.

On my last visit to the city, I saw its old city police building still bearing the colonial-era sign that advertised it as the 'Cawnpore Kotwali'. I recall telling a designer friend from the city that she should organise a fashion show in that building that has so much old-world character like Mumbai's Opera House or Kolkata's Victoria Memorial.

Maybe Kanpur's closed textile mills could be redeveloped as commercial or residential hubs, much like their counterparts at Lower Parel in Mumbai. But that would only be a romantic thought as Noida is evidently a better-planned city. Kanpur's leather units earned precious dollars for India in the economically troubled 1990s, but the manufacturing industries also polluted the Ganga, decisively eroding Kanpur's charm even as software stole the national limelight from textiles and leather.

There is much in Kanpur that needs attention and revival. Even the British, who must have bittersweet memories of the city they shaped and made, seem to have forgotten it. The much-awaited but delayed Free Trade Agreement between the UK and India could offer an opportunity for Britain to see if it can breathe some new-age life into rich nostalgia. Kanpur could still do with a Cawnpore touch. Perhaps the new IT park provides a chance to reverse-swing a diminished city.

We may yet see a born-again Kanpur in a state currently torn between the ancient glory of Ayodhya and futuristic fantasies woven around Noida. Perhaps someone will sing "For the times they are a-changin" in celebration of a new Kanpur, to quote the selfsame Dylan. For now, that appears very unlikely and we must stick to singing the Cawnpore blues.

Student loans

Ref: Nurturing talent over being stickler for rules (Oct 4). It is really gratifying that a three-judge bench of the Supreme Court has found the immense determination of Atul Kumar, son of a daily-wage worker, and ordered IIT Dhanbad to admit him to a supernumerary seat. The government can consider offering pre-sanctioned loans for such students who get admissions on merit.

Ensuring equity

The SC's choice of using its special powers under Article 142 to allow Atul Kumar to secure his seat in IIT-Dhanbad is a welcome move. Similar to the 2021 incident of another Dalit student who was allowed into IIT Bombay by the apex court after having missed his payment deadline, the judiciary has yet again done an exemplary job when it comes to ensuring equity among people coming from varied social strata.

Vaishnaw rules out rlys privatisation

Says public transporter set for transformation & govt committed to provide affordable services

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw during the Railway Protection Force Raising Day event at Nasik in Maharashtra on Friday | EXPRESS

RAILWAY Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Friday said there is no question of privatising the Railways, asserting that providing affordable service to all is the focus of the national transporter.

Vaishnaw said the Railways is working to ensure that people can travel up to 1,000 kilometres in comfort in less than ₹400. He said 12,500 general-class coaches are being manufactured for the convenience of the people.

"There is no denying the fact that Railways will undergo a complete makeover in the next five years and trains like Vande Bharat and Namo Bharat, equipped with indigenously developed anti-collision device called 'Kavach', will lead this change. It has started now," he said while addressing the Railway Protection Force Raising Day event in Maharashtra's Nasik.

"There is no question of privatisation of the railways. I urge those spreading such rumours to remember that the Railways and Defence are two backbones of India and must be spared from all kinds of politics," Vaishnaw said.

He added that the era of transformation across the Indian Railways has begun. Prime Minister Narendra Modi has ended the era of "politicisation of the Railways," the minister said. "We have given focus on performance, safety, technology and providing affordable service to all. To meet all these, the Modi government has given a big push to the railway budget, which currently stands at ₹2.5 lakh crore. We have set a record of laying 31,000 kilometres of new tracks in the last 10 years, which is more than the network of France," Vaishnaw said.

He explained that 40,000 km rail route has been electrified during the last 10 years of the NDA government, which he said is double of what has been done in the past 60 years. "We plan to start 3,000 train services in the next six years. During the UPA rule, Maharashtra used to get ₹1,171 crore for railway works. This figure has gone up to ₹15,940 crore under the Modi government. A sum of ₹33,000 crore is earmarked for the bullet train segment in the state as well as ₹12,500 crore for the state leg of the dedicated freight corridor," he said, adding that a ₹7,000 crore project is planned to connect Marathwada to port facilities.

Speaking about the Railway Protection Force (RPF), he said ₹35 crore has been earmarked for upgrading the force's zonal centres, while demands pertaining to service rules and promotions are under consideration. The minister said that an additional grant of ₹5.5 crore was sanctioned for the zonal training centre for the RPF dog squad in Tamil Nadu.

The minister, along with RPF DG Manoj Yadava, felicitated 33 personnel with police medals for their meritorious service and Jeevan Raksha medals for their courageous efforts in saving passengers' lives in 2023 and 2024.

Lanka won't let its territory be used against India: Dissanayake

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

Sri Lankan President Anura Kumara Dissanayake meets External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar during their meeting in Colombo, Sri Lanka, on Friday | PTI

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar called on Sri Lankan President Anura Kumara Dissanayake in Colombo on Friday and stressed deepening the ties with the island nation.

During his day-long visit, less than a fortnight after Dissanayake was sworn in, Jaishankar also met Prime Minister Harini Amarasuriya, his counterpart Vijitha Herath, Sajith Premadasa, and Leader of the Opposition from the Samagi Jana Balawegaya party and former Sri Lankan president Ranil Wickremesinghe.

Jaishankar is the first foreign dignitary to visit Sri Lanka since the National People's Power (NPP) government led by Dissanayake came to power on September 23.

Sri Lanka is India's key maritime neighbour in the Indian Ocean Region and occupies a special place in its initiatives such as 'SAGAR' (Security and Growth for All in the Region) and the 'Neighbourhood First Policy.'

"I was honoured to call on President Anura Dissanayake in Colombo. Conveyed warm greetings of President Droupadi Murmu and PM Narendra Modi. Appreciate his warm sentiments and guidance for the India-Sri Lanka relations. Discussed ways to deepen ongoing cooperation and strengthen India-Sri Lanka ties for the benefit of people of two countries and the region," Jaishankar said on Friday.

"On security and defence, the meetings brought our interests of both nations. President reiterated that Sri Lankan territory would never allow to be used in a manner inimical to India's security interests," he said, adding, "Discussions focused on boosting cooperation in multiple sectors."

Jaishankar reaffirmed India's support for Sri Lanka's economic recovery. "The importance of continued bilateral collaboration in mutually beneficial issues was also discussed," Dissanayake said after meeting Jaishankar.

Jaishankar also spoke about facilitating Indian investments and job creation in Sri Lanka as well as expanding flow of Indian tourists. In April 2022, the island-nation declared its first-ever sovereign default since gaining Independence from Britain in 1948. The unprecedented financial crisis led the then president Gotabaya Rajapaksa to quit office in 2022 amid civil unrest.

Maldives Prez on 4-day India visit from Oct 7

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

MALDIVES President Mohamed Muizzu will embark on a four-day visit to India beginning October 7.

"President Muizzu will also visit Bengaluru and Mumbai subsequently," said Randhir Jaiswal, spokesperson for the Ministry of External Affairs.

Muizzu visited India in June when Prime Minister Narendra Modi took oath as PM for the third time. However, the upcoming visit will be his first State visit.

This visit will be viewed as a significant one, especially after the upswing in anti-India sentiment that was witnessed some months back. External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar had gone to the Maldives in August and had bilateral meetings with his counterparts and also called on President Muizzu.

"Maldives is one of the cornerstones of our 'Neighborhood First' policy. To quote PM Modi: For India, neighborhood is a priority and in the neighborhood, Maldives is a priority. We also share the closest bonds of history and kinship," Jaishankar had said when he visited Male.

During his meeting with Muizzu, Jaishankar discussed various aspects of bilateral partnership, which included development partnership, defence and maritime cooperation, capacity building, economic and trade ties and people to people ties.

India's relationship with Maldives is free of any politically contentious issues.

'Hungry can't wait': SC poser to Centre, states on migrant workers

> States were directed to find out the number of migrants and unskilled labourers eligible for the ration cards, including those who have become ineligible subsequently
>
> Supreme Court

Linked to pandemic

SC had taken suo motu cognizance of the problems that the migrant labourers faced during the Covid-19 lockdown. From time-to-time, the court issued orders on the transportation of labourers to their native places

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY @New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday restrained itself from issuing any contempt notices and granted a last opportunity to the Union and the states to comply with its earlier orders to verify and give ration cards to those migrant workers and unskilled labourers found eligible under the e-Shram portal.

The matter is related to the case in which the top court had on May 26, 2020, taken suo motu cognizance of the problems and miseries the migrant labourers faced during the Covid-19 lockdown.

From time-to-time, the court issued orders on the transportation of migrant labourers from their workplace to their native places and provided dry rations -- without insisting on an identity card -- as well as cooked meals to the stranded migrant workers.

After getting to know that its earlier orders on providing ration cards to those migrant workers and unskilled labourers found eligible under the e-Shram portal were not provided, the court said that failing to comply with this order would force it to call the Secretary of Food or the authority concerned from states to explain the reason for non-compliance. It has directed states to file an affidavit where identification of eligible persons has been done but they are yet to be issued ration cards.

Although the suo motu proceedings were initiated during the Covid pandemic to grant ration to migrant workers, the scope of the proceedings has been expanded to provide ration cards to migrant and unorganised labourers, who are registered in the e-Sharm portal but do not have ration cards. It also includes those not covered under the NFSA on grounds that the right to food is protected under Article 21.

According to the SC order, states were directed to find out the number of migrants and unskilled labourers eligible for the ration cards, including those who have become ineligible subsequently.

Those eligible were to be verified through KYC and were to be registered under the e-Shram portal to receive ration cards and ration.

Kharge flags 'unauthorised entry' of CPWD, CISF & Tata Projects officers into his room

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

CONGRESS president Mallikarjun Kharge has written to Rajya Sabha chairman Jagdeep Dhankhar claiming that officers from the Central Public Works Department (CPWD), Central Industrial Security Force (CISF) and Tata Projects have been entering his room in Parliament without informing him.

"I am deeply shocked to learn that on September 28, 2024, my chamber room number G-19 in Parliament House was entered into by CPWD, CISF and Tata Projects without any prior intimation whatsoever to me or to my office," the Leader of Opposition in Rajya Sabha said in the letter.

Calling it a blatant violation of rules, Kharge demanded that his complaint should be given due importance. "This is an extraordinary development. It is in blatant violation of rules and my privileges both as a Member of Parliament and as the Leader of the Opposition in Rajya Sabha, in which capacity the chamber has been allotted to me," Kharge said, adding, "I find this intrusion highly disrespectful and completely unacceptable."

"I demand to know under whose authority and instructions they entered my chamber without permission. This may be taken seriously," he said.

The opposition leader also said that he trusts "that measures will be taken to ensure that such incidents which undermine the dignity of the Leader of the Opposition do not happen in the future."

"If at all such entry is required, my permission must be sought and must take place with somebody from my office present. I look forward to your prompt response on this matter," he said.

Separately, the Congress chief also accused the government of facilitating the recruitment of Indian workers in Israel amid the raging war in West Asia.

In a post on micro-blogging site X, Kharge alleged that around 15,000 Indian workers were being sent to Israel through the government's National Skill Development Corporation. "Earlier, many Indian youths were duped by dubious agents to go for the Russia-Ukraine war. Many have lost their lives too. It speaks volumes about the joblessness, induced by the anti-youth policies of the Modi government," Kharge posted.

DUBEY PANEL TO REVIEW PRESS COUNCIL LAW

The parliamentary standing committee on communications and IT, headed by BJP MP Nishikant Dubey, will look into the Press Council of India Act and will review broadcasting laws and censor board. The was reconstituted on September 26 and Dubey appointed its chairman. "This committee will review fake news, the status of journalists, the new online media laws of the British and European Union, losses caused to IT due to the World Trade Organisation agreement, the status of newspapers, the laws of broadcasting, the Copyright Act, the censor board, the status of film artists, our panel will also look into the Press Council Act," Dubey wrote on X.

FIR against SpiceJet MD, others over PF dues

UJWAL JALALI & SHEKHAR SINGH @New Delhi

What complainant said

"The establishment's representative admitted to have made the said deduction in respect of the employees during quasi-judicial proceedings before a competent assessing officer," the complainant stated. Meanwhile, a senior SpiceJet official said the company has cleared all pending salary and GST dues as well as deposited 10 months' dues of PF.

THE Economic Offence Wing of the Delhi Police has registered a case of cheating and criminal conspiracy against Spice Jet's managing director Ajay Singh and some other top officers of the aviation company for failing to remit its share of Provident Fund of more than ₹65 crore.

Apart from MD Ajay Singh, the FIR which was lodged on the complaint of Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) mentions five people as accused. They include Shiwani Singh (director), Anurag Bhargava (independent director), Ajay Chhotelal Aggarwal and Manoj Kumar.

As per the FIR, all the six people, who have been referred to as employer by the complainant, had deducted 12% of employees' share in lieu of provident fund dues from their salaries between June, 2022 and August 2024.

The 12% employees' share of PF dues is payable to EPFO under section 6 of the EPF and MP Act to be remitted in the respective PF accounts of employees fund maintained by EPFO, which is a statutory authority.

The SpiceJet, which employs around 10,000 people, deducted ₹65,70, 62,540 from their account as provident fund in the past two years.

However, as per the complainant, the amount deducted was not remitted for crediting in the accounts of the employees as PF contribution within the mandatory 15 days of close of every month between June, 2022 and August 2024.

It was in violation of the EPF scheme. "The establishment's representative admitted to have made the said deduction in respect of the employees during quasi-judicial proceedings before a competent assessing officer," the complainant stated following which a case was registered.

Meanwhile, a senior Spicejet official told this newspaper that the company has cleared all pending salary and GST dues as well as deposited ten months' dues of provident fund. "Within the first week of raising fresh funds of about ₹3,000 crore through the Qualified Institutional Placement (QIP), the airline has cleared all pending salary and GST dues and has made significant progress by depositing ten months of PF dues, and the process of clearing other outstanding dues is ongoing," the airline official said.

Among other efforts, the airline has reached settlement with various aircraft lessors. "We remain on track with the financial and operational plan outlined in our QIP strategy," said the airline spokesperson. SpiceJet has been facing multiple headwinds, including financial problems and legal woes. It is also operating with a reduced fleet.

Haryana all decked up for battle

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE fate of Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini, Bhupinder Singh Hooda and Vinesh Phogat of the Congress besides JJP's Dushyant Chautala and 1,027 other candidates will be decided on Saturday as elections to the 90-member Haryana assembly will be held with over 2 crore people eligible to vote.

The ruling BJP is eyeing a hat-trick of wins in the state while the Congress is hoping to make a comeback after a decade. The counting of votes will be held on October 8.

State chief electoral officer Pankaj Agarwal said 2,03,54,350 voters, including 8,821 centurions, are eligible to vote which will be held from 7 am to 6 pm.

DGP Shatrujeet Kapur said Haryana Police is fully prepared to ensure free, fair and peaceful conduct of elections. Over 30,000 police personnel and 225 paramilitary companies have been deployed.

Adequate police presence will be maintained at the booths and locations, among which 3,460 polling booths have been classified as critical, and 138 have been deemed vulnerable, necessitating additional security measures. As many as 186 interstate and 215 intra-state checkpoints have been established, where police teams will monitor movements closely.

In race for CM post if Cong wins, says Selja

Senior Congress leader Kumari Selja asserted that she is in the race for the CM post if the party comes to power in the state. "See, that only high command will have to answer, they will only decide. There are a few people who would be in the consideration zone, and I think Selja would be there. The high command would look at the seniority, work done, and everything else. These political decisions would be taken by high command," she said. Selja dismissed reports of her joining BJP. "Selja is Congressi," she said, adding she is not upset with the party.

A total of 1,031 candidates are contesting in all 90 assembly constituencies, including 101 women. Among these candidates, 464 are contesting as independent. A total of 20,632 polling booths have been set up for voting, Agarwal said on Friday.

The grand old party is contesting 89 seats as it left the Bhiwani assembly seat for its INDIA bloc partner CPM. The saffron party, too, is contesting an equal number of seats as Haryana Lokhit Party chief Gopal Kanda is seeking re-election from the Sirsa seat.

Besides the BJP and Congress other political parties in the fray are AAP, INLD-BSP and JJP-Azad Samaj Party alliance. Most seats are likely to see a direct fight between BJP and the Congress.

There are 20 assembly segments in the Jat heartland where there might be a multi-cornered contest as the 'rebel' leaders of BJP and Congress who were denied the party ticket are in the fray as Independent candidates. Besides these seats there is a direct contest between the saffron and grand old party in about 70 of the total of 90 assembly seats.

Sources said assembly constituencies where these "rebels" can upset the apple cart of both parties are Ellenabad, Ambala Cantt, Kalayat, Gurugram, Dabwali, Pundri, Baroda, Hisar, Gohana, Panipat City, Panipat Rural, Ganaur, Punhana, Rewari and Rania.

The INLD-BSP, AAP and the JJP-ASP alliance candidates may also spring a surprise. Both BJP and Congress changed their strategy for these seats at the eleventh hour.

In the assembly polls in 2019, BJP won 40 seats, Congress 31 and JJP 10.

Post-campaigning, temple hopping with a slice of reality check in Jatland

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

THE election campaigning in Haryana may have come to an end. But it isn't time to relax just yet for the contesting candidates. Many of them on Friday met party and booth workers and also prayed at religious places seeking divine blessings for their victory.

CM Nayab Singh Saini along with his wife paid obeisance at the Mansa Devi temple in Panchkula and performed 'havan-yagya'. The contestant from the Ladwa Assembly segment said that BJP would form the government in the state for a third time with a big mandate. Saini also appealed to voters to come out of their homes on October 5 to ensure full voting. He said party workers have taken the party's vision and 'Sankalp patra' to each home.

Former CM and Leader of Opposition in the assembly Bhupinder Singh Hooda met party workers in Rohtak. After a hectic campaigning across the state, Hooda relaxed at his residence where he met party and booth workers. He is contesting from Garhi Sampla Kiloi Assembly seat in Rohtak.

Former home minister and BJP leader Anil Vij was in party office in Ambala.

Indian National Lok Dal's Abhay Singh Chautala held a meeting with party workers. He is contesting from Ellenabad assembly seat in Sirsa.

Parties may run bitter campaigns against each other during polls, but the mention of the sweet 'jalebis' in the speeches of their leaders helps bring down the political temperature. This was in evidence on Friday.

Gohana's jumbo-sized 'jalebis' and polls have a connection, a sweet one. Politicians hot on the campaign trail stop by for a bite, parties across the spectrum place bulk orders and both Narendra Modi and Rahul Gandhi mentioned its legendary creator, the late Matu Ram, in their speeches. Matu Ram's grandson Raman Gupta said the jumbo-sized sweet was introduced in 1958 in Gohana by his late grandfather.

Gehlot in hot water again over phone-tapping

Former CM Ashok Gehlot might be in for trouble as the alleged phone-tapping case emerging from a political crisis in 2020 has returned to haunt him. The heat is on after Gehlot's former OSD Lokesh Sharma was grilled for five hours by Delhi Police on Thursday. Sharma handed over a pen drive, laptop, and mobile phone as evidence. He claims the pen drive was given to him by none other than Gehlot himself. Sharma has now openly stated the next step should be interrogation of Gehlot. Will the former CM be summoned for questioning? All eyes are on Delhi Police as this political potboiler continues to unravel.

Senior BJP minister leaves party red-faced

A political drama over a senior cabinet minister has caused anxiety in the ruling BJP in Rajasthan. It all started with a viral video of the minister's son. But a fresh bombshell appeared just when the controversy seemed to be fading out. Reports said that during his visit to explain the fiasco to the party leadership, the minister got caught in an even more scandalous situation at a five-star hotel in Delhi. The whispers are growing louder about Delhi Police getting into action. But after some intervention reportedly from the top-level, the matter was resolved. The report emanating from Delhi has taken the state by storm.

Bhajan Lal-Nadda meet triggers speculation

Chief Minister Bhajan Lal Sharma's unexpected trip to Delhi on Thursday night has set off a buzz. Initially slated to return directly to Rajasthan from Haryana, Sharma made a surprise detour to the capital, where he met BJP chief JP Nadda. After a hush-hush meeting, Sharma headed back to Jaipur. Insiders say the BJP leadership isn't exactly thrilled with the Bhajan Lal government's sluggish membership drive. The less-than-impressive numbers have raised brows ahead of the crucial bye-elections. What makes this even more interesting is the fact that Nadda himself had canceled his visit to Rajasthan earlier the same day.

10 convicted for lynching DySP in Kunda in '13

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

IN an 11-year-old case of murder of a Deputy Superintendent-rank police officer in Kunda assembly segment of Pratapgarh in Uttar Pradesh, a CBI special court held 10 people guilty on Friday. The quantum of punishment will be pronounced on October 9.

The case had kicked up much heat and dust as it had Kunda MLA and Jansatta Dal (Loktantrik) chief and then minister in the Samajwadi Party govt Raghuraj Pratap Singh alias Raja Bahiyya was among the accused. However, the CBI had given him the clean chit later.

Those who have been convicted by the CBI court in connection with the case allegedly lynched DySP Ziaul Haq, who was CO, Kunda, on March 2, 2013, when he had reached a site of unrest following the murder of a village pradhan.

Special CBI judge Dhirendra Kumar, found 10 accused guilty under IPC sections, including murder, unlawful assembly, voluntarily causing hurt, and assault on public servant.

As per Special Public Prosecutor KP Singh, the CBI had filed an FIR in the case in 2013 and the chargesheet in June the same year.

Govt committed to boost health infra, add 75K med seats in 10 yrs, says Shah

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

HOME Minister Amit Shah said on Friday that the Centre will add 75,000 medical seats nationwide over the next decade to improve health care facilities. Addressing a gathering in Adalaj village after inaugurating trust-run hospital 'Hiramani Arogyadham', Shah said that PM Narendra Modi has adopted a holistic approach for the health care sector.

"PM Modi first started Swachhta Abhiyan, a cleanliness drive to eliminate several diseases. Then he focused on providing pure drinking water and building toilets in each household to save people from many other diseases. Then he popularised Yoga and introduced the Ayushman Bharat scheme for free treatment of up to ₹5 lakh," he said.

For better implementation of Ayushman Bharat scheme, Modi then focused on upgrading primary and community health centres as well as setting up new medical colleges across the country, the minister said.

"Each medical college comes with a hospital having all 14 departments. Now, we have set a target of adding another 75,000 medical seats in the next 10 years," Shah said.

₹473 cr investment

On a two-day visit to Gujarat, Home Minister Amit Shah inaugurated and laid the foundation stone for multiple projects under the Gandhinagar Municipal Corporation with ` 473 crore investments aimed at boosting the city's infrastructure.

Creating a web of government-run pharmacy stores selling cheap generic medicines was also part of the holistic approach of the Centre, he added. "The Narendra Modi government has launched and implemented 37 different schemes to benefit 140 crore people," Shah said, emphasising the NDA government's commitment to improving public welfare.

Deputy Speaker jumps from Maha Mantralaya's 3rd floor, lands on net

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA Deputy Speaker Narhari Zirwal and three other legislators on Friday jumped from the third floor of the state secretariat, Mantralaya, onto the safety net just a floor below to protest against the demand for the inclusion of the Dhangar community in the Scheduled Tribe list.

Zirwal, an MLA of deputy chief minister Ajit Pawar-led NCP, his party legislator Kiran Lahamate, Congress MLA Hiraman Khoskar and BJP tribal MP Hemant Savara breached the police security and jumped onto the safety net, installed in 2018 as a precautionary measure to prevent suicide attempts at Mantralaya. No injuries were reported in the incident that saw tense moments unfolding at the six-storey Mantralaya complex, police said.

The protest, which involved two MLAs and an MP from the ruling Mahayuti alliance, highlighted escalating tensions over the government's handling of tribal issues.

After the police personnel removed the leaders from the net, the tribal representatives then gathered in the ground floor passage and began a sit-in claiming that CM Eknath Shinde was not meeting them to discuss the quota issue.

Dhangar or shepherd community in the state is demanding ST category inclusion for the purpose of reservation. But Zirwal and other tribal leaders are protesting against this demand. "I am an adivasi first and then an MLA and a deputy speaker," Zirwal told reporters when asked what led him to resort to such a protest. "CM Shinde should meet the protesters," he added. They also asked the state government to start recruitment of tribal youths under PESA (Panchayat Extension of scheduled Areas) Act.

BJP MLC Gopichand Padalkar said, "Zirwal holds a constitutional post and should not take such extreme step. The issue will be resolved amicably in the meeting called by CM Eknath Shinde."

Earlier in the day, some tribal MLAs held a protest at the Mantralaya during a cabinet meeting attended by CM Shinde and Deputy CMs Ajit Pawar and Devendra Fadnavis. Later Shinde met a delegation of tribal community MLAs and ensured them to resolve their issues.

The Dhangar community is currently in the OBC category and some of its members have been agitating in Pandharpur in Solapur district demanding their inclusion in the ST list.

Police 'fire in the air', lathicharge flood victims in Bihar's Muzaffarpur

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

POLICE resorted to baton charge to disperse flood victims indulged in putting up road blockade, stone pelting and arson in Bihar's Muzaffarpur district on Friday. The authorities, however, denied reports of police firing and said that only a mild force was used to bring the situation under control.

The incident took place near Gopalpur village under Bedaul police outpost when a group of flood victims put up road blockade and indulged in arson on NH-77 connecting Sitamarhi with Muzaffarpur. The flood victims were irked over closure of community kitchen, which was started by the district administration after the victims were evacuated to safer places.

The road blockade led to traffic jam on the busy road. A police team attached to Bedaul police outpost rushed to the spot to remove the blockade. The police tried to convince the protestors but in vain. The situation, however, turned worse when the police used force to lift the road blockade. The protestors pelted stones on the cops. Additional reinforcement was requisitioned from the district headquarters as the situation was going out of control. The police resorted to lathicharge and opened four rounds in the air to disperse the unruly mob. Though nobody was injured in the firing, a police officer sustained injuries.

Vidya Sagar, SP, Rural, Muzaffarpur, said the police resorted to baton charge to quell the protestors indulging in stone pelting, road blockade and arson. "Now the situation is under control. Additional police force has been deployed in the area as a precautionary measure," he told this newspaper over the phone. The SP, however, denied reports of the police firing.

Slugfest over 'toilet tax' as Sukhu and BJP spar

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AMID unrest over reports of a new tax to be levied on the number of toilet seats in a house, Himachal Pradesh CM Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu categorically denied imposing a "toilet tax" on Friday. He assured the public that the government had taken steps to rationalise the water subsidy, a move aimed at ensuring financial stability, and decided to impose minimal charges of ₹100 per connection per month in rural areas. There is no such thing as toilet tax, Sukhu said.

According to sources, there are reports that the state government plans to impose a tax of ₹25 per toilet seat for residents of urban areas.

Meanwhile, the reported move has come under criticism from the BJP leadership.

Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said, "Unbelievable, if true! Whilst PM (Narendra) Modi ji builds Swachhata as a people's movement, here is Congress taxing people for toilets! Shame that they didn't provide good sanitation during their time, but this step will shame the country," the minister posted on 'X'.

BJP either plays religion card or raise toilet tax issue, Sukhu retorts
Govt official says the tax order passed only to be withdrawn

Joining Sitharaman, BJP national general secretary Tarun Chugh said that the Himachal government has continuously imposed new taxes and restrictions on the people. "This is a reflection of the Himachal government's economic bankruptcy, policy bankruptcy and mental bankruptcy," he flayed.

Also, BJP IT cell head Amit Malviya wrote on 'X', "In a bizarre move, the Congress Govt in HP will now tax citizens based on number of toilet seats they have at home. You read that right - number of toilet seats! PM Modi is building toilets, Congress is taxing them. This is what 'crap' leadership does..."

Responding to the allegations, CM Sukhu categorically denied imposing 'toilet tax' in the state. He said the claims are baseless and should not be used for political purposes. "In the light of the Haryana elections, the BJP is either playing the religion card or raising the toilet tax issue. It is completely false. No one should try to politicize issues purely for political gains, especially when the allegations are far from reality," he said.

Sukhu said that prior to the Assembly elections in 2022, the then BJP government had introduced sops worth ₹5,000 crore, including provision of free water in rural areas in a bid to get votes. Despite these measures, the state's people voted in favour of the Congress.

He further said free water was being provided to even five-star hotels; the current government had taken steps to rationalize the water subsidy and decided to impose minimal charges of Rs 100 per connection per month in rural areas.

An officer on condition of anonymity said, "On September 21, the state Jal Shakti department issued a notification regarding the imposition of ~ 25 tax per sewerage seat in urban areas. Besides, a tax of ~ 100 was imposed on water in rural areas. However, when the file of the notification was sent to Deputy Chief Minister Mukesh Agnihotri, the notification was withdrawn."

Additional Chief Secretary Onkar Sharma said, "It was brought to the notice that some hotels and institutions were using their own water but sewerage of government and it was decided to charge ₹25 per seat from them but when the notification was sent to Deputy CM Agnihotri for vetting, sewerage charges were withdrawn in the subsequent notification", he added.

KHAMENEI SPITS FIRE IN FIRST PUBLIC SERMON IN 4 YEARS

Says Hezbollah, Hamas won't back down; calls Oct 7 attack 'logical' action by Palestinians

TEHRAN

IRAN'S supreme leader Ayatollah Ali Khamenei, delivering a rare Friday sermon in Arabic, defended this week's missile attack on Israel that deepened fears of a regional war and praised allies' defiance.

Khamenei had a rifle by his side as he addressed tens of thousands at a mosque in the capital Tehran, Khamenei said armed groups in the West Asia "will not back down" even after a spate of Israeli killings of militant leaders.

In his first public Friday sermon in nearly five years, Khamenei spoke in Arabic to discuss fighting against Israel by the Iran-aligned "axis of resistance".

"The resistance in the region will not back down with these martyrdoms, and will win," Khamenei told the crowd at the Imam Khomeini Grand Mosalla mosque, where supporters carried portraits of slain Hezbollah and Hamas leaders.

He hailed the groups' "fierce defence" against Israeli forces over the past year, since Hamas's October 7 attack sparked the war in the Gaza Strip that has since spread to Lebanon and other parts of the West Asia. The Tehran-backed militants were engaged in "logical and legitimate" action against Israel, Khamenei said, and "no one has the right to criticise them."

Khamenei spoke with a rifle by his side, a common tradition in Iran for Shiite Muslim imams leading Friday prayers, meant to signal preparedness to face an enemy. The speech was preceded by a commemoration ceremony Hezbollah chief Hassan Nasrallah who was killed in an Israeli strike on southern Beirut on September 27 alongside Revolutionary Guards commander Abbas Nilforoushan, dramatically escalating the conflict.

Khamenei's sermon took place days before the first anniversary of the Gaza war, and after Iran this week had fired barrages of some 200 missiles at Israel in retaliation for the killings of Nasrallah, Nilforoushan as well as Hamas leader Ismail Haniyeh in Tehran in July.

"What our armed forces did was the minimum punishment for the crimes of the usurping Zionist regime," said Khamenei of the missile fire, Iran's second-ever direct attack on US-backed Israel. The Iranian leader charged that Israel was a "malicious regime" which has "only kept itself standing by the injection of American support".

It "will not last long", he said. "The Palestinians were right" to launch the unprecedented October 7 attack on Israel, Khamenei said, calling it "a logical and legal" action.

Iran has hailed the Hamas attack but denied any involvement. Tehran does not recognise Israel and has made support for the Palestinian cause a centrepiece of its foreign policy since the Islamic Revolution in 1979. Khamenei last led Friday prayers in January 2020 after Iran fired missiles at a US army base in Iraq, in response to a strike that killed revered Revolutionary Guards commander Qasem Soleimani. Hamas, Hezbollah and other armed groups are part of the Iran-aligned "axis of resistance" opposed to Israel and its ally the United States. AFP

BIDEN URGES ISRAEL TO NOT HIT IRAN OIL SITES

US President Joe Biden on Friday urged Israel against striking Iran's oil facilities, a day after he said the United States was discussing the possibility of such strikes with its ally. "If I were in their shoes, I'd be thinking about other alternatives," Biden told reporters

Israeli strikes in Lebanon cut off key crossing into Syria

BEIRUT

ISRAEL carried out a series of massive airstrikes overnight, hitting suburbs of Beirut and cutting off the main border crossing between Lebanon and Syria for tens of thousands of people fleeing Israeli bombardment.

The blasts in Beirut's southern suburbs sent huge plumes of smoke and flames into the night sky and shook buildings km away in the Lebanese capital. The Israeli military did not immediately comment on what the intended target was, and there was no information immediately available on casualties. Lebanon's state-run National News Agency reported there were 10 consecutive airstrikes in the area.

The Israeli military said Friday that a strike in Beirut the day before killed Mohammed Rashid Skafi, the head of Hezbollah's communications division. The military said in a statement that Skafi was 'a senior Hezbollah terrorist who was responsible for the communications unit since 2000' and was 'closely affiliated' with high-up Hezbollah officials.

Thursday's strike along the Lebanon-Syria border, about 50 km (30 miles) east of Beirut, led to the closure of the road near the busy Masnaa Border Crossing.

Israel said it had targeted the crossing because it was being used by Hezbollah to transport military equipment across the border. It said fighter jets had struck a tunnel used it to smuggle weapons from Iran and other proxies into Lebanon.

Hezbollah is believed to have received much of its weaponry from Iran via Syria. The group has a presence on both sides of the border, a region where it has been fighting alongside Syrian President Bashar Assad's forces.

Associated Press video footage showed two huge craters on each side of the road. People disembarked cars unable to pass the site of the strike, carrying bags of their possessions as they crossed on foot.

Tens of thousands of people fleeing war in Lebanon have crossed into Syria over the past two weeks there.

The new wave of strikes came after Israel warned people to evacuate communities in southern Lebanon, including but also beyond an area that the United Nations declared a buffer zone after Israel and Hezbollah fought a monthlong war in 2006. AP

The survey was conducted after Jokowi's allies moved to change Indoensia's election rules

THAILAND

BUS OPERATOR CHARGED OVER DEADLY FIRE

Police in Thailand on Friday said they have filed criminal charges against a bus operator in connection with a bus fire that killed 23 young students and teachers on a school trip earlier this week, as investigations suggested a gas leak may have caused the blaze. The owner of the bus, identified by police only by her first name, Panissara, was charged with negligence causing death. Public outrage over the tragedy has put officials under scrutiny over safety standards after information emerged that the bus had passed an inspection about four months before the fire.

Police fire tear gas on pro-Imran protesters in Pak

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTANI authorities on Friday used tear gas to disperse protesters who had gathered here at D-Chowk demanding the release of jailed former prime minister Imran Khan and to show solidarity with the judiciary.

The authorities also suspended the mobile and internet services in most parts of the twin cities of Islamabad and Rawalpindi to quell the protests called by Khan.

The call for protest was given by the 71-year-old former cricketer-turned-politician who has been incarcerated at Rawalpindi's Adiala Jail for more than a year. He asked his followers to converge at the iconic venue in the capital to register a protest. It is the same venue where Khan held a sit-in for 126 days in 2014 against alleged rigging in the elections.

Talking to the media at D-Chowk, Islamabad Inspector General of Police Syed Ali Nasir Rizvi said that police have blocked all entry points to Islamabad and also arrested about 30 protesters.

"Proceedings are underway wherever there are attempts to hurt police or damage property. Till now, there have been over 30 arrests. We are updating the exact numbers. We have a clear message that we will not let anyone take the law into their own hands," he said. As the Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) workers led by Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Chief Minister Ali Amin Gandapur made their way to D-Chowk, Interior Minister Mohsin Naqvi said no one would be allowed to violate the law and damage properties in the name of a protest.

Talking to the media in Islamabad, Naqvi said some elements intend to march to Islamabad in the name of a political protest. "The federal government has taken all the necessary measures to ensure the security of the foreign guests in the capital," he said.

The minister said the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa chief minister should consider why and on whose incitement, he is going to organise a protest, adding that Gandapur should think that first he was a Pakistani and then a political worker. Naqvi also regretted the inconvenience caused to the residents of Islamabad. PTI

Singapore tycoon charged in case linked to Iswaran

SINGAPORE

A Singapore-based property tycoon was charged on Friday over his involvement in a case linked to former Indian-origin transport minister S Iswaran who was sentenced to jail in a corruption case.

Ong Beng Seng, 78, faces one count of abetting a public servant in obtaining gifts and another charge of obstructing justice.

Iswaran, who was sentenced to one year in jail on Thursday, pleaded guilty to obtaining items such as Formula 1 tickets and a trip to Doha from Ong.

According to court documents, Ong in December 2022 instigated Iswaran to obtain a valuable thing by offering him a trip from Singapore to Doha on his private plane with a value of about USD 7,700 (INR 6,46,582). He also arranged a one-night stay in a hotel in Doha with a value of SGD 4,737.63 (INR 3,06,922) and a business class flight from Doha to Singapore with a value of SGD 5,700 (INR 3,69,206) for Iswaran, the Channel News Asia (CNA) reported. The charge sheet states that Iswaran knew this was connected to the facilitation agreement for the Singapore Grand Prix 2022 to 2028, between Singapore GP and the Singapore Tourism Board, the report said.

Iswaran was the chairman of the F1 steering committee and the chief negotiator with Singapore GP on business matters relating to the race. Ong, who is the chairman of Formula One (F1) race promoter Singapore GP, was among several individuals called up by the Corrupt Practices Investigation Bureau (CPIB) over the Iswaran probe. PTI

Google threatens news blackout in New Zealand over proposed law

Google said Friday it will stop linking to New Zealand news content and will reverse its support of local media outlets if the government passes a law forcing tech companies to pay for articles displayed on their platforms

GOVT'S PUSH FOR REVENUE SHARING

It followed a surprise announcement by New Zealand's government in July that lawmakers would advance a bill forcing tech platforms to strike deals for sharing revenue generated from news content with the media outlets producing it. The law aims to stanch the flow offshore of advertising revenue derived from New Zealand news products

2021

Australia was the first country to attempt to force tech firms including Google and Meta to the bargaining table with news outlets through a law passed in 2021. At first, the tech giants imposed news blackouts for Australians on their platforms, but both eventually somewhat relented, striking deals reportedly worth 200 million Australian dollars a year, paid to Australian outlets for use of their content

WIN FOR CANADIAN NEWS BIZ

As Canada prepared to pass similar digital news bargaining laws in 2023, Google and Meta again vowed to cease their support for the country's media. Last November, however, Google promised to contribute 100 million Canadian dollars for news businesses

Obama to join Kamala's campaign trail in battleground states next week

WASHINGTON

FORMER US president Barack Obama will stump for Kamala Harris in key swing states, adding his star power to the Democrat's White House bid in the final month before election day, her campaign said Friday.

Obama, America's first Black president, will make his first appearance next Thursday in the industrial city of Pittsburgh in Pennsylvania, perhaps the most critical state in Harris's battle with Republican Donald Trump.

The 63-year-old remains an influential voice among Democrats, and he and former first lady Michelle Obama delivered rapturously received speeches backing Harris at the party's national convention in August.

"President Obama believes the stakes of this election could not be more consequential and that is why he is doing everything he can to help elect Vice President Harris, Governor (and vice presidential nominee Tim) Walz and Democrats across the country," Obama's senior advisor Eric Schultz said in a statement.

Obama will campaign in battlegrounds up until election day, Harris's campaign said.

He could have a crucial role in getting out the vote in a desperately tight election against Trump, particularly as Harris seeks to mobilize younger people and Black voters. The ex-president endorsed Harris, 59, after President Joe Biden dropped out of the White House race in July.

He portrayed Harris -- America's first female, Black and South Asian vice president -- as the political heir to his own trailblazing path in his speech at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. AFP

US SC to decide on plans to store N-waste in Texas

Washington: The Supreme Court agreed on Friday to step into a fight over plans to store nuclear waste at sites in rural Texas and New Mexico. The justices said they will review a ruling by the 5th US Circuit Court of Appeals that found that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission exceeded its authority under federal law in granting a license to a private company to store spent nuclear fuel at a dump in West Texas for 40 years. The outcome of the case will affect plans for a similar facility in New Mexico. Roughly 1,00,000 tons of spent fuel, some of it dating from the 1980s, is piling up at current and former nuclear plant sites

iPhone 16 series to be made in India

India-made iPhone 16 Pro and Pro Max to be available soon for local customers and export

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

WEEKS after launching its iPhone 16 series, Apple announced that it will manufacture its entire iPhone 16 lineup, including premium devices, in the country.

This marks the first instance of Apple producing premium devices outside China. The Cupertino-based company stated that India-made iPhone 16 Pro and Pro Max models will soon be available for local customers and export to select countries worldwide.

"Apple is now manufacturing the entire iPhone 16 lineup, including iPhone 16 Pro and iPhone 16 Pro Max, in India," said Apple in a statement.

The company also outlined its expansion plans in the country, which include opening four more retail stores in India. Apple opened its first two retail stores in India, located in Mumbai and Delhi, in 2023. The company now plans to expand its retail presence to other cities, including Bengaluru, Pune, the Delhi-NCR region, and additional locations in Mumbai.

"Our stores are incredible places to experience the magic of Apple, and it's been wonderful to deepen our connection with our customers in India... We're thrilled to build our teams as we plan to open more stores in India, because we're inspired by the creativity and passion of our customers across this country. We can't wait for them to have even more opportunities to discover and shop for our amazing products and services, and connect with our extraordinary, knowledgeable team members," said Deirdre O'Brien, Apple's senior vice president of Retail.

Apple first started manufacturing iPhones in India in 2017, initially producing older generation models such as iPhone 13, iPhone 14, and iPhone 15 series. Financially, Apple reported ₹68,000 crore in domestic sales for FY24 and ₹66,000 crore in iPhone exports for FY23. Most India-made iPhone 16 Pro and Pro Max units will be exported to key markets, including Europe, the Middle East, and the US.

Apple has over 3,000 employees in India. Apple's work with Indian suppliers of all sizes supports hundreds of thousands of jobs across the country.

Mkt sees biggest weekly fall since June 2022 as FIIs offload shares

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market saw its biggest weekly fall this week in over two years (since June 2022) as foreign institutional investors (FIIs) pressed the sell button to bet on China and Hong Kong amid rising tension in the Middle-East, which is posing inflationary challenges to the global economy following a sharp surge in oil prices.

Benchmarks BSE Sensex and NSE Nifty50 shed up to 4.5% during the week ending October 4. It was in the week between June 6 and 10, 2022, when the benchmarks had registered a bigger fall as Nifty50 had then declined by about 5.6%. Investors lost a ₹17 lakh crore this week as the combined market capitalisation of BSE-listed companies, which stood at ₹478 lakh crore as of closing last Friday, came down to ₹461 lakh crore this Friday.

The local indices ended lower for the fifth straight session on Friday with Nifty briefly falling below 25,000 level intraday. At close, Sensex was down 808.65 points or 0.98% at 81,688.45, and Nifty was down 200.30 points or 0.79% at 25,049.80.

After selling shares worth ₹15,243 crore on Thursday, the highest in a single session in four years, the FIIs sold another ₹9,896.95 crore worth of shares on Friday, taking the last four sessions combined selling to about ₹40,000 crore.

"FIIs are moving money from expensive India to cheap Hong Kong on expectations that the monetary and fiscal stimulus being implemented by the Chinese authorities will stimulate the Chinese economy and improve earnings of Chinese companies. It remains to be seen how this Chinese recovery hopes play out," said V K Vijayakumar, Chief Investment Strategist, Geojit Financial Services. The Hang Seng index has risen more than 30% in the last one month while the Shanghai Composite Index has jumped more than 20% in just 5 sessions.

Ajit Mishra – SVP, Research, Religare Broking said that the ongoing geopolitical tensions have driven crude prices higher, dampening hopes for a rate cut by the RBI in the upcoming policy meeting.

PM Internship Scheme: 50 more companies join the initiative

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government's PM Internship Portal has seen a remarkable uptick in internship listings, with over 2,200 opportunities currently available as of 3 pm on Friday, sources aware of the development confirmed. This follows the onboarding of 50 new companies, in addition to 111 that joined on Thursday.

Prominent firms such as Britannia, HDFC Bank, Mahindra & Mahindra, Max Life Insurance, and Alembic Pharma have already onboarded the PM Internship Scheme via the online portal solely dedicated for this initiative. As per sources, Big 4s such as PWC is also looking to take part in the PM Internship scheme. Godrej is also likely to be part of the scheme. Additionally, as per sources, state-owned Steel Authority of India Limited (SAIL) plans to onboard 977 interns across various trades in its plants, while Jindal Steel & Power (JSPL) is set to register for the scheme, aiming to enrol nearly 500 interns.

Public sector banks are also in the process of joining the initiative, further expanding the scope of available internship opportunities. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has developed the online portal, which is slated to open for candidates on October 12.

Forex reserves hit all-time high of $704.89 billion

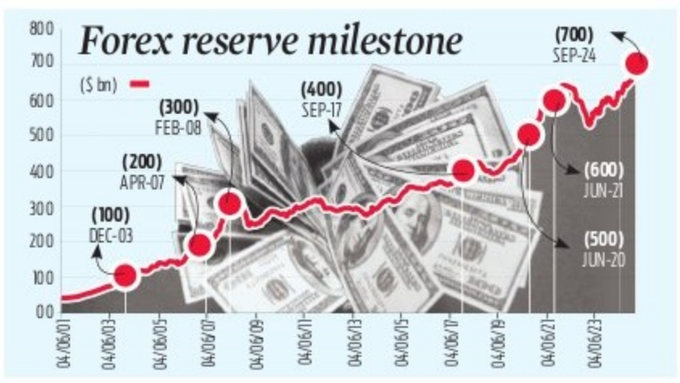
BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

THE country's forex reserves hit all-time high of $704.89 billion, up a whopping $12.5 billion in the week to September 27, the Reserve Bank said on Friday, something that can assuage a fraught market following the heightened tension in the Middle East.

With this, the RBI has amassed a whopping $113 billion to the reserves in the 12 months period ending September 27. The $12.5 billion accretion is the largest weekly addition so far. In comparison, this is nearly three times the GDP of Pakistan and makes it the world's fourth largest.

The massive rise in reserves was led by a surge in foreign currency assets and gold reserves, while Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) increased and the IMF reserve position saw a slight dip. The RBI continues to intervene to manage market stability. In the previous reporting week the reserves stood at $692.3 billion. The massive jump has Wall Street brokerage Bank of America Securities forcasting the reserves to touch $750 billion by March 2026.

"The foreign exchange reserves will likely rise to $745 billion by March 2026, giving the central bank more potential firepower to influence the rupee," BofA said in a note earlier in the day, adding the monetary authority "seems relaxed about holding larger forex reserves, owing to its desire to build buffers against contingent external risks. India has the world's fourth-biggest foreign reserves as rising overseas inflows into the nation's stocks and bonds have helped the Reserve Bank boost its stockpile to a record high. The amount provides stability to the rupee against external shocks, with the RBI using its reserves to limit extreme swings in the currency hovering near a record low, BofA said.



According to the weekly statistical supplement released by the RBI, foreign currency assets were up by $10.4 billion to $616 billion. Expressed in dollar terms, foreign currency assets include the effect of appreciation or depreciation of non-US units like the euro, pound and yen held in the foreign exchange reserves.

Luxury carmaker BMW calls for green tax to boost net zero efforts

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

AMID talks about increasing GST on electric vehicles — all EVs including luxe ones currently attract a flat 5% — the country's largest luxury EV car-maker BMW has called for a green tax/GST, which typically levies lesser tax on a product that's greener than others.

BMW India on Friday announced their highest-ever sales in 17 years for the nine months of the year at 10,556 units, which includes the parent BMW cars and Mini labelled car), clocking a 10% growth over same period in 2023. Of the 10,556 cars it sold, as many as 750 are EVs— BMW has seven all-electric cars (5 BMWs and 2 Minis; all imported) and two Motorrad bikes which are imported.

So far, it has sold 2,500 EV cars, making it the largest player in luxe EV space commanding as much as 50% of the market and the company is sure of closing this year in four-digits. "Ideally, there should be a green tax, or a green GST to promote net-zero emissions, and not just EVs alone. Under which, the greener the car is the lower should be tax payable on that product," Vikram Pawah, president and CEO of BMW Group India told TNIE- here Friday.

Pawah was here to launch the company' 25th model this year—the luxe sportscar M4CS- -and announce the national extension of its Retail Next initiative that will bring all its models, including the bike brand Motorrad, under one-roof, and was responding to a question from TNIE on the reported move of the GST Council to up the levy on luxe EVs from the present 5 percent.

There has been some political criticism of the high GST on essential items like biscuits that attracts 28% and very low levy on items like gold (3%) and all EVs, including luxe cars, at 5%. Following this, there has been reports that the Council may raise GST luxe cars so that it looks more politically correct. Calling for stability in policies and taxation. Pawah said for the country to attain the net zero targets and to have 30% of its mobility moving to electric or onto greener fuels, there has to be policy stability along with taxation certainty.

India's per capita income to rise by $2000 in next 5 years: FM

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

INDIA'S per capita income, currently at $2,730, is projected to increase by $2,000 over the next five years, according to finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman. Speaking at the Kautilya Economic Enclave, she said it took 75 years for India to reach the current level of per capita income. The country has recently achieved a notable milestone by becoming the fifth-largest economy globally, moving up from the tenth position within a span of five years.

"India's creditable economic performance in the recent decade was underscored by its leapfrog from the 10th to the 5th largest economy in a matter of five years, sustained high growth rates and maintained inflation well within the comfortable range," Sitharaman said during her address.

Additionally, data indicates a decline in income inequality, with the Gini coefficient for rural India falling from 0.283 to 0.266, and for urban areas from 0.363 to 0.314, she added.

"I expect these improvements to continue as the effects of the last 10 years of economic and structural reforms manifest more thoroughly in the data in the coming years as the Covid shock fades from the economy," she stated. As per her, consumption will organically rise over coming decade. As of now, 43% of Indians are younger than 24 years old, and they have yet to explore their consumption behaviour fully. There will be organic growth in consumption as they become full-fledged consumers. Simultaneously, a rising middle class will pave way for strong consumption, inflow of foreign investment and a vibrant marketplace.

JAPAN

IMF SAYS COUNTRY SHOULD KEEP RAISING RATES

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) on Thursday said that the Bank of Japan (BOJ) should stay data-dependent and continue to gradually raise policy rates in line with inflation data. The central bank added that it is on track to bring price increases back to its 2% annual target. Japan's new prime minister Shigeru Ishiba said on Wednesday that the country is not in an environment requiring an additional rate hike, a remark interpreted by markets as reducing the chances for a near-term increase. Ishiba has also pledged new fiscal measures to cushion many households from the impact of higher prices. Kozack said the economy was continuing to grow, but broad price increases were maintaining headline inflation above the BOJ's 2% target.

PHILIPPINES

INFLATION TO SETTLE NEAR 3.2% IN 2024: MINISTER

The Philippines' inflation rate could settle near 3.2% in 2024, the country's finance minister said on Friday. This gives the central bank room to further interest rate cut. "This gives the BSP more room to be aggressive in its monetary policy easing to help the economy grow at a faster rate and support the government in raising its revenue collections," Finance Minister Ralph Recto said in a statement. Inflation was at 1.9% in September, slowest in over four years. The downtrend in overall inflation in September 2024 for the bottom 30% income group was mainly brought about by lower YoY growth in heavily-weighted food and non-alcoholic beverages at 2.1% in September 2024 from 5.8% last month. Faster annual fall was observed in transport index at 1.8% in September 2024 from 0.1% annual drop in the previous month.

SOUTH KOREA

INFLATION EASES MORE THAN EXPECTED

Amid growing expectations of an imminent policy easing, consumer inflation in South Korea fell more than expected in September, falling below the Bank of Korea's (BOK) target for the first time since early 2021. The consumer price index (CPI) grew 1.6% in September from a year ago, following a rise of 2% in August, Statistics Korea reported on Wednesday. The inflation reading was below the BOK's medium-term goal of 2%. Following the release if the inflation numbers, there are discussions among policymakers and market participants about a possible rate cut as the next policy meeting is scheduled for October 11. The three-year rate-sensitive treasury bond yield fell 3.4 basis points to 2.777%, lowest since April 2022. Price stabilisation trend was continuing, Finance Minister Choi Sang-mok and BOK Deputy Governor Kim Woong said.

IT sector bounces back with 18% YoY growth in hiring in September

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FROM the sluggish pace of hiring, the IT sector has bounced back strongly in September as there was an 18% year-on-year (YoY) growth in hiring. Among cities, Jaipur led with a 47% YoY increase in IT roles, followed by Kolkata at 32%, according to data from the Naukri JobSpeak Index.

Like previous months, Artificial Intelligence/Machine Learning roles surged by 31%, indicating increasing demand for tech talent. The IT sector also saw a 35% y-o-y growth in hiring for professionals with over 16 years of experience. Unicorns and foreign MNCs were key drivers of this growth, with 16% and 14% y-o-y increases respectively, the report showed.

Similarly, Global Capability Centers (GCCs) recorded a 12% YoY growth in hiring. GCCs of management consulting firms led this growth with a 50% YoY increase, followed by the heavy machinery sector at 40%. Regionally, Kolkata and Bengaluru were hotspots for GCC hiring, with 18% and 16% YoY growth, respectively.

Recently, Knight Frank India, in its latest report – India Real Estate: Residential and Office Q3 2024 cited that Bengaluru led the growth of the commercial market, accounting for 28% of the 19 mn sq ft of transactions across the top eight cities. The city saw a YoY growth of 158%, mainly driven by the establishment of GCCs by corporations. The Naukri report also pointed out Mumbai and Bengaluru emerged as key drivers in the FMCG sector as the FMCG roles are growing by 49% and 43% respectively in these cities. Pawan Goyal, Chief Business Officer of Naukri, said after a prolonged period of hiring stress, it is exciting to see the robust recovery in the tech sector.

"It's particularly encouraging to see IT, BPO, AI-ML roles, and GCCs, all performing well," he added. There has been significant hiring in manufacturing sector. "The Indian manufacturing sector is growing fast, with a 40% increase in job postings from 2022 to June," said Sashi Kumar, head of sales, Indeed. "Jobs like CNC operators and production supervisors are in high demand," he added.

Dhoni invests ₹3 cr in IPO bound Garuda

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

CRICKETER MS Dhoni has topped-up his investment in drone start-up Garuda Aerospace and rejoins the IPO-bound start-up as brand ambassador.

Sources told TNIE that he has invested ₹3 crore in the drone start-up. Dhoni said he believes in the vision of Garuda to make India a Drone hub by 2030. About his association with Garuda, the former Indian skipper said, "As Garuda spreads its wings across the world, I am proud to be associated with the team's journey in positively impacting Agriculture, Defence, Industry 4.0 & consumer drone sector as their captain." In 2022, Dhoni started his association with the start-up after 100 drones were flagged off by PM Narendra Modi in 100 locations. Since then, Garuda has scaled up its revenue. As per market intelligence firm Tracxn, the start-up has raised equity funding of $33.4 million in eight rounds and its valuation as on August 24, 2024 stood at $255 million.

Telcos asked to act against spammers

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Friday issued a warning to telecom service providers, urging them to step up their efforts against spammers.

The telecom sector regulator noted that following its directive, telcos have blacklisted over 680 entities involved in spamming activities, and 1.8 million numbers associated with such practices have been disconnected.

"TRAI has issued strict instructions to service providers to act swiftly against spammers. As a result, service providers black-listed more than 680 entities and disconnected 18 lakh numbers during the last one and half month," said TRAI on a social media post X.

Last week, to address the misuse of URLs in messages, the telecom regulator issued a directive, instructing all telecom carriers to block any traffic containing URLs, APKs (Android Package Kits), or OTT (Over-The-Top) links that have not been whitelisted. This directive is set to be implemented by October 1, 2024.

Before the regulatory body enforced the new rule, previously, links in SMS messages could lead to unknown sources, posing threats of financial loss or privacy breaches. Under the new rules, any link received via SMS will be from a verified source, enhancing user security.

New Zealand players celebrate the wicket of India's Smriti Mandhana at the Dubai International Stadium | AP

DEVINE ACT: SOPHIE, TAHUHU STUN INDIA

White Ferns captain cracks unbeaten half-century before pacer runs riot to hand Harmanpreet & Co a 58-run defeat on Friday

THE first ball Asha Sobhana bowled to Suzie Bates felt more like a move on a chessboard. A short ball wide of off stump, for which Bates came down the wicket before realising the turn, and nudged it towards cover. Experience from both ends but at different levels of course. Bates, playing her ninth T20 World Cup, while Asha, on her ICC event debut. Eventually, the leg-spinner did give India the breakthrough the desperately needed with the wicket of Georgia Plimmer, who was batting with the strike rate of 150 and New Zealand were cruising. She gave away just 22 runs in her four overs, with Sophie Devine's fighting fifty taking the White Ferns to 160/4.

Almost an hour later, Asha was in the middle with the bat at the Dubai International Stadium, with the scoreboard reading 90/8 as India were chasing 161 in their opening game of the tournament. India would eventually fall short by 58 runs as Lea Tahuhu (3/15) and Rosemary Mair (4/19) ran through the batting line-up. Not the kind of start Asha or India would have wanted in their World Cup campaign.

The international cricket journey that started against Bangladesh early in the year gave glimpses of what to expect from Asha. With butterflies in her stomach she patiently waited for her chance and dismissed Nigar Sultana Joty to take her first international wicket. "It rained the whole night and the ground staff, and everyone tried their best to make it happen. The ground was really good," she told this daily earlier. "Though it rained for like 40 minutes, the ground was ready to play. So I was really happy. I was feeling really nice about that wicket. I was really lucky enough to get Sultana's wicket as my first wicket. And the wicket also also was helping me and my only plan was to go to the right areas. The result was there, I was very happy," she added. Till then, Asha had only watched the Indian team from a distance or watched them on television. When she was welcomed in this squad with open arms, well, she embraced it like anything. "It's a wonderful feeling, you know, when we watch on TV, the Indian team plays it. So they play such a beautiful brand of cricket and playing in that team among somebody like Harmanpreet Kaur, Jemimah Rodrigues, I thought, you know, Indian team, international team, they'll be really serious about the game and all, but they were really cool. We didn't have the feeling that it was the first time with the Indian team. It was like we were already there in the team," said Asha.

Even today, at the Dubai International Stadium, once she took the wicket of Plimmer, her much adored Leandro Trossard-like celebration was there for everyone to see. Asha, an ardent fan of the Premier League club, knows what fans go through to support their favourite teams. And her story with the club is an old one. "When Arsene Wenger was there as a manager from the time I started following Arsenal before that I used to watch matches here and there, I never supported any club since Thierry Henry was there. I used to watch a lot of matches of Thierry Henry, you know, a legend. But from the time, you know, when I met all these people from 2012/13, I started watching, I started following and I was a great fan of Lukas Podolski. that time they just won the World Cup for Germany and I was a fan of Lukas. I followed him and I saw him playing for Arsenal and all of those players were amazing players. Watching premier league matches and all then I slowly fell in love with the passion of that club. That club has something, I mean, their fans are something else. I can easily connect with the RCB fans, because of that. They don't have any trophies in premier league trophies, but their fans are the most loyal fans."

Indian fans, and those who support Royal Challengers Bengaluru, her Women's Premier League, would be disappointed to see Women in Blue fizzle out the way they did on Friday. A 58-run defeat would hurt India's net run-rate in what is already a tough group with Australia, Pakistan and Sri Lanka yet to come. The Indian team and Asha, who made the most of her World Cup debut would know that all too well. The good thing is that they do not have time to sulk and will be taking the field against Pakistan tomorrow. And come that match, which is an afternoon game, Asha would be itching to make a bigger impact for the Indian team.

Brief scores: New Zealand 160/4 in 20 ovs (Sophie Devine 57; Renuka Singh 2/27) bt India 102 in 19 ovs (Rosemary 4/19, Tahuhu 3/15).

OPENERS HELP PROTEAS GET OFF THE MARK

Laura Wolvaardt and Tazmin Brits both hit unbeaten half centuries to guide South Africa to a 10-wicket victory over West Indies in their opening match of the ICC Women's T20 World Cup 2024. Chasing 119, the opening pair of Wolvaardt (59) and Brits (57) both looked in complete control to seal victory with 13 balls to spare without the loss of a wicket for the 2023 runners-up. Nonkululeko Mlaba (4/29) and Marizanne Kapp (2/14) both impressed with the ball to restrict the West Indies to 118 for six. Brief scores: West Indies: 118/6 in 20 ovs (Taylor 44; Mlaba 4/29) lost to SA 119 for no loss in 17.5 ovs (Wolvaardt 59 n.o, Brits 57 n.o).

All hail Omaima Sohail, Pakistan's bowling lodestar

KALYANI MANGALE @ Dubai

OMAIMA Sohail loves to bowl. By her own admission, she loves doing it even more against Sri Lanka. Take for example her best-ever T20I spell. It came against Chamari Athapaththu's side at Sylhet during the Asia Cup in 2022 where she took five wickets was one of the best days of her life. Looking at the recent edition of Asia Cup, this time hosted in Sri Lanka, Sohail found her mojo again, but Pakistan fell short in the semi-final. So come the T20 World Cup, captain Fatima Sana knew the allrounder was up for the task.

"In a T20, you have to be involved in the game every minute," Sohail told this daily. "And Sri Lanka have a lot of left-handers in their squad so, in my mind, I keep thinking whenever I get the opportunity, I want to be my best self for the team. Left-handers usually are susceptible against the off-spinners so I had my advantage in that match-up," Sohail added.While having a skill is one thing, what makes Sohail different is the capacity she has to put those skills into use when her team needs her the most. On Thursday, when Pakistan struggled to put on big runs in the first innings, their young captain was under pressure to utilise her bowlers to register a win. Just as the powerplay was ending Sohail came into attack. Even with Athapaththu already in the dugout by that time, Pakistan could not afford to be loose. Sohail knew her task and with Harshitha Samarawickrama, a left-hander, and one of the dangerous batters for Sri Lanka in the middle, she had one task — get a breakthrough. With her fifth ball of the World Cup, Sohail had done her job. She let out a roar and Pakistan were in control.

Omaima Sohail | PCB TWITTER

For someone who wanted to be a pacer and was told to switch to off-spin early in her career, this mastery over the skills is special. And it was her school coach named 'Sir Musharraf', who found out the talent. "I used to play at school level. And one of the teachers, Sir Musharraf, who was a school coach and badminton coach as well, saw me batting once and told me that I should play for the girl's cricket team. I did not have any idea that there was something like women's cricket teams, I used to play in the streets with boys. I was as unaware as I could be but he helped me out through all of this. Even today, I practice with him," Sohail mentioned. The 27-year-old credits the under-age cricket in Pakistan with helping in her early days. The mix of enjoyment and responsibilities taught her that nothing is permanent if the work is put. "I have played in the U19 championship for 2/3 years. I have played at the U21 level and also at U23 as well. At this level, usually, the enjoyment factor is always there, but the responsibility eventually comes on your shoulders. You have to take wickets and score runs at that level, but eventually, you learn a lot of responsibilities. I think that phase was ideal for me because I have equally enjoyed and taken responsibility there." In all of the ups and downs she has seen in her career, Sohail's family has been of great support. "Family, especially my father, has been the backbone of my journey. They keep the checks and balances of what I do in the match. My father used to drive me to the ground and back and he used to stay there the whole time so he could see how I was doing," she gets emotional talking about the support.

When asked if she had any wish list heading into the World Cup about the wickets she wanted to take, Sohail kept cards close to her heart. Maybe Samarawickrama and Hasini Perera were on that list. "Our group is very competitive and there are going to be close matches there. I have targeted a few players from all of the teams in that group and I hope I get those," she chuckled while answering the question.

When the schedule for the T20 World Cup came in before it was moved to UAE from Bangladesh, the fixture between Pakistan and Sri Lanka was supposed to be played in Sylhet, the place of Sohail's personal triumph. However, in Sharjah, with her two wickets, she made sure Pakistan gets over the line and maybe it was meant to be.

HIL set to return after seven years

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

THE much-awaited Hockey India League (HIL) will return after seven long years in a new avatar, where both the men's and women's teams will participate in the event beginning December 28.

While the men's competition will have eight teams, six sides will feature in women's event which is being held for the first time. The league will be played in two venues -- Rourkela for men and Ranchi for women -- from December 28 to February 1. The sport's world governing body, FIH has given sanction of 10 years for HIL.

The players auction for the league will be held here from October 13 to 15. A total of 10 franchise owners have come on board. Players will be auctioned in three categories: ₹2 lakh, ₹5 lakh, and ₹10 lakh. The introduction of an exclusive women's league within the HIL framework is being seen as providing a platform for female athletes to demonstrate their prowess, paving the way for a more inclusive and competitive future for Indian hockey.

The franchise owners of the men's event are Chennai ' Charles Group, Lucknow ' Yadu Sports, Punjab 'JSW Sports, West Bengal ' Shrachi Sports, Delhi ' SG Sports and Entertainment, owned by tennis legend Mahesh Bhupathi, Odisha ' Vedanta Limited, Hyderabad ' Resolute Sports and Ranchi ' Navoyam Sports Ventures Private Limited.

Irani Cup: Spinners put Mumbai in command

AGENCIES @ Lucknow

SEASONED spin duo of Shams Mulani and Tanush Kotian became catalysts of Rest of India's sudden middle-order collapse that saw them lose six wickets for only 23 runs here Friday, putting Mumbai within sniffing distance of an Irani Cup triumph despite Abhimanyu Easwaran's heroic 191.

In reply to Mumbai's first innings score of 537, RoI were cruising along at 393 for 4, riding on Easwaran and Test team's second keeper Dhruv Jurel's (93) 165-run stand for the fifth wicket. However, left-arm spinner Mulani (3/122 in 40 overs) broke Rest's resistance with quick dismissals of the two set batters in a space of 10 minutes to give the match a decisive turn on the fourth day. Off-spinner Kotian (3/101 in 27 overs) then polished off the tail as RoI were all out for 416, handing a 121-run first innings lead to Mumbai. Prithvi Shaw (76 off 105 balls) then came out all guns blazing as the ball started turning square with Mumbai finishing the day at 153 for 6 with an overall lead of 274. RoI off-spinner Saransh Jain (4/67 in 18 overs) and left-arm spinner Manav Suthar (2/40 in 17 overs) looked way more menacing in the second essay with a lot of deliveries keeping low along with appreciable turn on offer.

BRIEF SCORES

Mumbai 537 and 153/6 (Shaw 76, Jain 4/67) vs Rest of India 1st Innings: 416 (Easwaran 191, Jurel 93, Mulani 3/122, Kotian 3/101).

ISL 2024: Borja strikes late to rescue FC Goa

AGENCIES @ Margao

NORTHEAST United FC shared the spoils with FC Goa in a scintillating 3-3 draw in the Indian Super League at the Jawaharlal Nehru Stadium here.

Both teams went hammer and tongs with their respective frontline while the defenders had a tough day at office. North-East United believed they had three points in the bag until Borja Herrera came up with a late stoppage-time goal for Goa to split the pie. Armando Sadiku had earlier scored a double for the hosts. Nestor Albiach also scored two goals on the day for the visitors. Alaeddine Ajaraie maintained his hot streak and was the other goalscorer for the Highlanders.

Crystal Palace vs Liverpool | 5.00 PM

The Londoners finished like a bullet train last season but they are yet to win this time around. That will please Liverpool who have adapted to life under new manager Arne Slot rather well. Top of the table with five wins from six, he has got Luis Diaz purring while the likes of Mo Salah is providing the same output. The Reds are red-hot favourites for this one.

Man City vs Fulham | 7.30 PM

The champions, after a highly promising start, have hit the skids a bit with back-to-back draws. On paper, this is a game they should win but Fulham have begun the season with lots of potential. In sixth place, Marco Silva's men will eye a famous scalp here but for that to happen, they may have to manage the unenviable ask of keeping Erling Haaland quiet.

Arsenal vs Southampton | 7.30 PM

Third from top against second from bottom; the form book suggests this could be one-way traffic. Last week, the Gunners almost slipped up against Leicester so they will be wary. Maguire salvages draw for Man United at Porto

AGENCIES @ Porto

MANCHESTER United narrowly avoided another embarrassing defeat as substitute Harry Maguire headed in an injury-time equaliser to salvage a 3-3 draw against Porto in the Europa League on Thursday after Erik ten Hag's team had given up an early 2-0 lead and seen Bruno Fernandes sent off for a second straight game.

Fernandes was shown a second booking in the 81st minute for a high boot that caught defender Nehuen Perez as he tried to connect with a cross into the box. "We started the game very good, we dominated, we scored two good goals but then we lost control," Ten Hag said. "The middle part was no good and then we finished very good. ... We got the equalizer so it is good for the spirit."

Fernandes had been shown a straight read in a 3-0 loss to Tottenham in the Premier League on Sunday that upped the pressure on Ten Hag. And the Dutch manager seemed to be in more trouble when United gave up an early 2-0 lead to trail 3-2 when Pepe produced a cross from the right for his fellow forward Samu to fire his second and goal high into the net five minutes into the second half. But Maguire headed home a corner in the first minute of injury time to salvage a point for United, which now have two draws in the league phase and have failed to win any of their last four games in all competitions.

PACT FOR THE FUTURE ADOPTED, BUT GLOBAL CLIMATE CATASTROPHE IMPENDING

As COP29 approaches, key near-term needs remain unmet. These include the submission of new climate plans by February 2025, clear global messaging, and the mobilisation of resources for the transition to a low-carbon economy. While several countries emphasised the importance of scaling up climate action, the collective political momentum necessary for ambitious action ahead of COP29 was noticeably absent

S V KRISHNA CHAITANYA
@Chennai

LAST week, the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) and New York Climate Week unfolded against a tense global backdrop of rising conflicts and worsening climate impacts. Despite progress in areas like renewable energy and climate innovation, world leaders at both events emphasised that action on climate change remains insufficient to meet the growing urgency of the crisis. The key takeaway from the discussions was clear: only through strengthened global cooperation and multilateralism can the climate crisis be addressed effectively.

A major theme at the UNGA and New York Climate Week was the urgent need to reform global institutions, particularly the UN, to better address modern challenges. The Pact for the Future, adopted during the Summit of the Future, encapsulates this sentiment. Supported by over 190 countries, the Pact calls for a more inclusive and representative multilateral system. Global leaders, especially from developing nations, echoed the need for reforms, particularly in the UN Security Council, which they argue is outdated and no longer reflects current geopolitical realities.

The Pact for the Future also addresses new global challenges, such as the rise of artificial intelligence, and advocates for strengthening international financial systems to manage crises like climate change more effectively. The agreement reflects a broad commitment to multilateralism and global cooperation, a dynamic that is expected to influence negotiations at COP29 and other major international climate events in the coming years.

Despite the progress represented by the Pact for the Future, discussions at the UNGA highlighted the difficulties in achieving consensus on global reforms. While the Pact calls for more action, the process of making structural changes at the United Nations, particularly around climate governance, remains fraught with political complexities.

Slow progress

The Pact for the Future reaffirms key commitments on climate action, including the goal of limiting global temperature increase to 1.5°C, as outlined in the Paris Agreement. However, the agreement stopped short of introducing new groundbreaking measures. Many nations, including Brazil, the United Kingdom, and the United States, reiterated their commitment to updating their nationally determined contributions (NDCs) ahead of COP29 to meet this goal. Yet, the pace of action continues to lag behind the urgency of the crisis.

A key theme throughout the discussions was the need for greater political ambition in climate finance. Though COP29 is scheduled to take place in Baku, Azerbaijan from November 11, key near-term needs remain unmet. These include the submission of new climate plans by February 2025, clear global messaging, and the mobilisation of resources for the transition to a low-carbon economy. While several countries emphasised the importance of scaling up climate action, including Samoa, which chairs the Alliance of Small Island States (AOSIS), the collective political momentum necessary for ambitious action was noticeably absent.

Role of major economies

The role of major economies in driving climate action was central to discussions at the UNGA. UK Prime Minister Keir Starmer made headlines by reaffirming his country's commitment to global climate leadership, pledging to submit an updated NDC by COP29. It signals the UK's intention to return to the forefront of international climate diplomacy after a period of uncertainty. Starmer also announced several initiatives aimed at mobilising international climate finance, which remains one of the most pressing issues on the global climate agenda.

Brazil recommitted to submitting its NDC ahead of the February 2025 deadline, a critical step given its importance in global climate efforts, particularly as home to the Amazon rainforest, one of the world's largest carbon sinks. Azerbaijan, as the host of COP29, underscored its commitment to aligning its climate goals with the 1.5°C target and emphasised the importance of the New Collective Quantified Goal (NCQG) on climate finance, which is set to be a key focus of the upcoming summit.

Meanwhile, US President Joe Biden highlighted the interconnectedness of climate change, domestic action and global security in his address. His administration has made significant strides in promoting renewable energy and reducing emissions, but there are still concerns about whether the US is doing enough on the international stage to lead the global climate fight.

Financing climate tansition

Financing the global climate transition was a recurring and contentious theme during both the UNGA and New York Climate Week. The need to overhaul the international financial system was widely acknowledged, with calls to simplify access to climate finance and increase investments in climate resilience. The Bridgetown Initiative, spearheaded by Barbados, played a central role in pushing for these reforms, particularly in areas like debt relief and financing for developing nations disproportionately affected by climate change.

Although the NCQG on climate finance was a top priority during the discussions, no clear consensus emerged on how to structure this new financial framework. The World Bank and International Monetary Fund (IMF) meetings, scheduled for later this year, are expected to play a critical role in advancing these discussions. Multilateral development banks, in particular, were urged to scale up their contributions to climate finance to meet global needs.

Harjeet Singh, a prominent climate activist and Global Engagement Director for the Fossil Fuel Non-Proliferation Treaty Initiative, expressed frustration at the slow pace of progress. "We cannot continue to ignore the voices of those bearing the brunt of these crises. This moment should have marked a turning point for international cooperation. Now, we must build on its outcomes and fight for justice, prioritising the communities that are paying the price for the crises they did not cause."

He said the Summit of the Future was a missed opportunity. While it highlighted the pressing global crises we face — from the climate emergency to the biodiversity collapse — it fell short in delivering ambitious, actionable plans. "Instead, we've allowed the fossil fuel industry, big corporations, and wealthy nations to dominate the agenda, sidelining the urgent needs of those suffering the most, especially in developing countries."

What is Pact for the Future?

The Pact for the Future, adopted during the 79th session of the United Nations General Assembly last month is aimed to address today's challenges and shape tomorrow's global governance. Key areas of focus:

1 PEACE & SECURITY

Security Council Reform: Increased representation, particularly for Africa

Nuclear Disarmament: Recommitment to eliminate nuclear weapons

Outer Space Security: Preventing weaponisation and promoting safe exploration

New Technologies: Regulating autonomous weapons under laws of war

2 SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT & CLIMATE ACTION

Financial System Reform: Empowering developing nations in decision-making

Climate Goals: Limiting temperature rise to 1.5°C, promoting renewable energy

New Economic Measures: Beyond GDP – focusing on human and planetary well-being

3 DIGITAL COOPERATION

Global Digital Compact: Internet access for all, AI governance, data openness

Safe Online Space: Prioritising child safety and digital rights

4 YOUTH & FUTURE GENERATIONS

Future Declaration: Ensuring decisions consider future generations

Youth Participation: Greater opportunities for young voices in global policies

5 HUMAN RIGHTS & GENDER EQUALITY

Stronger Human Rights Protections: Focus on gender equality and defending human rights advocates

City-based GT racer Arjun Maini, on his stellar DTM performance in Austria, including a maiden pole and two consecutive podiums...

CAREER HIGH

DESE GOWDA

IN motorsport, there are race weekends where everything falls into place – a driver in form, perfectly in sync with their car; brilliant strategy aligned with flawless execution – producing some of the most memorable drives for both racer and team. For Bengaluru's Arjun Maini, the 2024 DTM weekend (Sept 28-29) at the Red Bull Ring in Austria was one such occasion. Racing for Mercedes-AMG Team HRT, Maini delivered his best performance yet in the highly competitive Deutsche Tourenwagen Masters (DTM) field, securing his first career pole position and two podium finishes.

Qualifying sessions can either be the highlight of a race weekend or the most nerve-wracking, depending on the driver's confidence, mindset, and preparation. Drivers must push both themselves and their cars to the limit, knowing that a single mistake could mean the difference between starting at the front, with a better chance of victory or a podium, and being relegated to the back of the grid. Despite a technical glitch, Maini delivered a remarkable lap of 1:30.128 minutes, clinching pole position and becoming the first Indian driver to do so in the series. "That was really crazy because my radio wasn't working, so I didn't know the result at first," explains Maini. "I tried to check the screens around the track, but they were too far away. The pole position felt incredible."

The first race brought a clear objective for Maini: convert pole position into victory. However, DTM races rarely go as planned. After slipping to second in the early stages, Maini managed to secure third at the finish. "It was bittersweet to finish third after starting on pole," he admits. "But I think we maximised what we could. I'm happy with the fantastic car the team provided and with the two podiums."

The second, starting from P8, Maini quickly made his way up to P6, benefiting from a longer first stint to climb further through the field. The 26-year-old found himself in a five-car battle but held on to secure another third-place finish. "Once I got ahead of Luka [Stolz], I had good pace and clear air," he says. "It usually takes two or three laps to bring the tyres up to speed, so I knew if I put in some strong laps after everyone pitted, I'd have a good chance."

As the DTM season heads into its final round at Hockenheim, Maini sits eighth in the championship standings with 128 points. Looking ahead to the finale, he hopes to carry the momentum from this breakthrough weekend into Hockenheim. "It was an intense weekend, and I'm very pleased with the result. Securing two podiums in such a competitive field is great, and we got the most out of both races," Maini concludes.

City all set for Enigma's India debut on Saturday

Enigma, the legendary music project founded by German artist Michael Cretu, is set to perform its first-ever live concert in India on October 5 at Jayamahal Palace, Palace Road. Founded in 1990, Enigma has earned three Grammy nominations and sold over 70 million records worldwide. Their debut album, MCMXC a.D., set the tone for their mystical, atmospheric sound, and this concert promises to bring that essence to life. The concert, in collaboration with The Indian Artist Collective (TIAC), will feature performances by original Enigma vocalists Andru Donalds, Angel X, and Fox Lima, delivering iconic hits such as Sadeness, Return to Innocence, and Mea Culpa. The event will also feature a full symphonic orchestra, live dancers, and captivating visuals, making it a sensory experience. Known for its genre-defying sound that blends archaic sounds, folk instrumentation, and atmospheric soundscapes, Enigma gained massive popularity during the rise of new-age music alongside artists like Enya and Deep Forest.

ASHTA CHANDRASANA VARIATION CACTUS ARMS (CRESCENT HIGH LUNGE POSE VARIATION CACTUS ARMS)

This is a variation of the base pose Ashta Chandrasana (Crescent High Lunge Pose). It is a chest opener, while keeping the lower body just like in Ashta Chandrasana. This helps beginners feel safe with the balance, unlike lifting the arms up in Ashta Chandrasana. Experienced students can follow with Warrior Pose I Cactus Arms Variation, while slowly gaining stability with the lower body by grounding the back foot. It can be included in Dragon Flow Yoga Sequence and Peak Pose Yoga Sequences.

STEPS

- Stand in Tadasana, take a couple of breaths, legs straight and arms by the side. Stay here for about 3-4 breaths.
- Inhale, lift your arms above your shoulders, parallel to each other. Gently, bend your upper body back for Hasta Uttanasana, pushing the abdomen forward.
- Exhale, bend forward in Standing Forward Fold Pose, keeping in mind to extend the spine.
- Keeping the core strong, touch the palms by the side of the feet. Inhale, keep the palms grounded, take your right leg back, and ground it behind.
- Stretch the right leg, toes curled outwards, and feet grounded. Stay in Runners Lunge Pose, keeping the right leg stretcged behind, without knees bent.
- Keep the left leg bent at a 90-degree angle, shin and knee on one line and the left thigh parallel to the ground. Slightly lift the neck in this Runners Lunge Pose.
- Inhale, exhale and feel the hamstrings and spine stretch. Stay here for about 4-6 breaths. Focus on the inner thigh muscles, and gluteus maximus muscles.
- Inhale, raise your arms above the head, parallel to each other, simultaneously align the back to a neutral spine.
- Keeping the core tight, align the body to Crescent High Lunge Pose. With every exhale, lower the hips maintaining the 90-degree angle of the left leg, opening your arms in the L shape, shoulder blades close to each other in Cactus Arms shape.
- Remain here about 4-6 breaths, inhale, open the chest, exhaling to drop the hips down. Complete the flow, exhale and release the Cactus Arms, slowly bring the right leg back near the left leg. Exhale, return to Tadasana and relax.
- Repeat, taking the left leg back. Release, return to Tadasana and do Eagle Arms as a counter pose.

BENEFITS

- Clears the nasal passage and activates the respiratory system.
- Helps tone muscles and strenghtens knees, ankles, hips, shoulders, elbow, entire spine and neck.
- Brings awareness, stability and helps build stamina to gain self-confidence.

LIMITATIONS

- Students with any injury to the knees or hips, suffering from low or high blood pressure, avoid this.
- Tightening or holding of breath may be hard for blood pressure patients. Hence, they should take guidance from a yoga teacher or avoid this.

BREAKING DOWN COFFEE QUERIES

COFFEE is one of the most widely consumed beverages in the world and is also a major source of caffeine for most populations. Caffeine is 99 per cent absorbed within 45 minutes of ingestion. Peak plasma concentrations occur between 15 and 120 minutes after oral ingestion. This wide variation in time may be due to variations in gastric emptying time between individuals. The mean half-life of caffeine in the plasma of healthy individuals is about five hours. However, caffeine's elimination half-life may range between 1.5 and 9.5 hours.

Coffee is high in not only caffeine but also other bioactive compounds, such as polyphenol and chlorogenic acid that have been suggested to confer diverse health benefits. Higher coffee intake may be associated with decreased risk of type 2 diabetes, cardiovascular disease, certain cancers (breast, colorectal, endometrial, and prostate cancers), Parkinson's disease, and mortality.

When it comes to coffee and caffeine, there are plenty of questions surrounding their effects on health, performance, and daily life. From how coffee impacts weight loss and workout performance to concerns about sleep, hydration, and anxiety, the topic can be complex. Let's dive into the most common questions about coffee consumption, backed by science, to help you make informed decisions about your daily brew. Whether you're a casual coffee drinker or a caffeine enthusiast, these answers will shed light on how to optimise your coffee habits for health, fitness, and well-being.

Does caffeine dehydrate you at rest?

The general public has readily accepted that caffeine intake promotes and facilitates fluid loss through a diuresis-like effect. The guidelines from the United States Food and Drug Administration (FDA) recommend limiting caffeine intake to ≤400 mg/day in healthy adults, which equates to ~4–5 cups of coffee. Moderate daily doses of caffeine (3 mg/kg or~250-300 mg), which is above the reported average in the United States, in habitual drinkers do not seem to augment urine volume. In contrast, excessive and impractical doses of caffeine (6 mg/kg or ≥500 mg) may facilitate acute diuresis. Acute diuresis refers to a sudden and temporary increase in urine production and excretion by the kidneys.

Does caffeine decrease body weight and fat mass?

Regardless of the time of day, caffeine can significantly increase the estimated value of fat oxidation. Additionally, the ability of caffeine to enhance fat oxidation during exercise is higher in sedentary or untrained individuals than in trained and recreational athletes.

As it helps with appetite suppression, boosting metabolism and thermogenesis and improved exercise performance, it can decrease body weight and fat mass in new coffee consumers rather than habituated coffee consumers.

Is there a relationship between coffee and depression?

The relationship between caffeine and depression is highly individualised. While moderate caffeine consumption may provide temporary relief from some depressive symptoms and even have potential mood-enhancing effects for some individuals, excessive or poorly managed caffeine intake can exacerbate anxiety, disrupt sleep, and lead to negative mental health outcomes. Individuals with depression must be mindful of their caffeine consumption and its impact on their well-being, as well as to seek professional guidance, if necessary, as well as consider any other physical diagnoses present.

Can caffeine cause heart problems?

The overall impact of caffeine on an individual's cardiovascular risk profile is likely to be influenced by a myriad of factors, including dosage, duration of consumption, mode of consumption (eg, coffee, tea, etc.), and individual metabolic and genetic differences. In addition, much of one's caffeine consumption is via coffee. The current FDA guidelines suggest consuming no more than 400 mg daily. The effects of 400 mg will differ if one's body mass is 60 kg vs 100 kg. Moreover, this must be tempered with the fact that many exercising individuals may exceed that dose when caffeine is used as an ergogenic aid.

Moderation is always key. It is important to hydrate well while also maintaining the dosage levels of caffeine consumption as too much of anything can be detrimental to health and well-being.

PEPPER long, the dried fruit of Piper longum, is a slender, aromatic plant with creeping jointed stems and perennial woody roots. Its ovate, cordate leaves measure 5-9cm long and 3-5cm wide, with broad rounded lobes at the base.

This plant thrives in regions ranging from the Central Himalayas to Assam, the lower hills of Bengal, the Western Ghats, and even extends to Uttar Pradesh, Nepal and the Nicobar Islands. It is commonly cultivated in limestone soil, particularly in areas with heavy rainfall and high humidity.

Pepper long is valued both as a spice and medicine. Its fruits and roots hold medicinal properties, treating respiratory diseases.

The plant is known for its carminative, haematinic, and anti-helminthic properties, making it a versatile ingredient in traditional medicine.

'MARTIN WILL PUT ME IN FRONT OF A GLOBAL AUDIENCE'

...says Vaibhavi Shandilya, who is excited about her first multilingual film, as she shares her experiences working with the team and reflects on her journey in the Kannada film industry

A SHARADHAA

AS the release date of Martin approaches, Vaibhavi Shandilya is filled with mixed emotions. "I'm excited to promote the film and eager to see the audience's reaction when it releases on October 11," she shares, a hint of nervousness in her voice. "This feeling is understandable, as Martin is not only debuting in five languages but will also be available in over 13, including foreign languages. A Kannada film reaching new heights feels like a grand experiment for us."

Vaibhavi, one of the talented outsiders who received a warm welcome in Kannada, began her career with Raaj Vishnu (2017), co-starring with Sharan. She later appeared in Gaalipata 2 (2022), directed by Yogaraj Bhat, and now finds herself fortunate to be part of Martin. "Honestly, it all depends on the audience and how they embrace the film. We're coming in with open hearts, ready to entertain. For me, this film marks a significant milestone in my career," she explains.

Initially unaware of the film's expansive reach, Vaibhavi was surprised when Dhruva Sarja, the lead actor, showed her the trailer for Martin in Korean and Spanish. "When I asked him why we were releasing the trailer in these languages, he told me the film would also be available in those markets. It was a pleasant surprise and felt like a responsibility for Indian filmmakers to raise the bar. After Martin, I feel my career is just beginning, and I'm excited to see where it takes me."

Being part of a multilingual film will certainly broaden her horizons. "This opportunity will put me in front of a global audience. I'm looking forward to seeing how people across the world react to my work. I'm still an emerging talent, and this is only my third film in Kannada. The feeling is quite new to me. Right now, I'm not a star; people don't usually come up to me for photos. I hope that changes after Martin," she says with a hopeful smile.

In the film's promotional content, Vaibhavi is seen in just one song, but she understands the focus is primarily on Dhruva Sarja's protagonist. "Being at the start of my career, I see Martin as a fantastic opportunity to showcase my talent, even if it means only 15 minutes of screen time. I'd rather be a small fish in a big pond. I know this film leans heavily into action and the hero's journey. For me, it's a stepping stone."

Reflecting on the long wait for the film's release, Vaibhavi admits, "In my heart, I felt sad that we couldn't release it sooner. It took three years, and during that time, I chose not to sign other projects because I wanted to work with the best team. I had some tough moments, but all for good."

Vaibhavi's role in Martin is as the protagonist's love interest, and she's been gradually learning the languages for her part. "I appreciate director AP Arjun for giving me the freedom to express myself on screen while still ensuring he got the best shots from me. I've always had Dhruva Sarja's support throughout this process. I must also mention Uday Mehta, our producer; he's lion-hearted and uncompromising, which is a true blessing."

With a sense of anticipation, Vaibhavi concludes, "This is just the beginning, and I can't wait for the world to see what we've created with Martin."

It's a wrap for Suraag Sagar's directorial debut Nidradevi Next Door

CE FEATURES

SURAAG Sagar's Nidradevi Next Door, starring Praveer Shetty and Shine Shetty, wrapped shooting. Team Nidradevi Next Door concluded the film's shoot with a special event, which brought together the entire cast and crew, highlighting a strong sense of unity and teamwork throughout the project.

The film marks the directorial debut of Suraag, who honed his expertise in direction and screenwriting at Prague Film School in Europe and garnered attention with his sci-fi short film Entropy. It also stars Rishika Nayak and Sruthi Hariharan, along with supporting cast members Sudharani, Srivatsa, Aishwarya Gowda, Anoop, Master Sujay Ram, Karthik Pattar, and Anurag Patil appearing in pivotal roles.

Produced by Jayaram Devasamudra under the banner of Suram Movies, the film's title hints at themes that explore the complexities of rest, dreams, and the subtleties of daily life. Suraag Sagar shared that a considerable portion of the film was shot at a meticulously designed set located in HMT, Bengaluru. He underscored the film's ambiance and the creative vision that has come to life through their collective efforts.

Nidradevi Next Door, which moves into post-production, comes with a strong technical team as well. It has music composed by Nakul Abhyankar, cinematography by Ajay Kulkarni, and art work by Ullas Hydoor.

An engaging film that oscillates between ghostly horror and melodrama

A SHARADHAA

SOME projects take time to emerge from the shadows, and Bhairadevi, which has long been in the making, offers an exploration of the horror genre through Aghori traditions and malevolent spirits. Given that such narratives are rare, the film still holds attention, particularly through Radhika Kumaraswamy's portrayal of Bhairadevi—a refreshing female lead free from romantic entanglements. Yet, there's a twist lurking beneath the surface.

The film's strength lies not only in its titular role but also in its compelling plot and well-developed characters. Aravind (Ramesh Aravind) plays a Deputy Commissioner of Police haunted by the ghost of his late wife, who tragically took her own life. The narrative opens with a poignant scene where his young daughter, still grappling with her mother's death, shares unsettling dreams about a mysterious presence visiting her at night. This supernatural premise weaves together themes of familial grief and lingering mystery.

Aravind's relationship with his daughter is crafted to evoke empathy, with Lakshmi (Malavika Avinash), the teacher, serving as a crucial bridge. She articulates the child's fears and hints at something ominous lurking in Aravind's car—a detail that raises eyebrows. As he steers through his grief and the unsettling experiences that plague him, his colleague Veerrayya (Rangayana Raghu) recommends seeking help from an Aghori, a practitioner of esoteric rituals.

As the story progresses to Varanasi, a place steeped in spiritual significance, it deepens its exploration of faith and the afterlife. The introduction of veteran actor Shivaram adds cultural depth, while the DCP's inexplicable fears lead him to explore spirituality and liberation within the framework of Hindu rituals.

Visually, the scenes at Manikarnika Ghat evoke thoughts of the eternal cycle of life and death. The chanting of 'Om Namah Shivaya' enhances the atmosphere, especially during the introduction of the Aghori characters. Bhairadevi's entrance, accompanied by a high-tempo song and vibrant choreography, deserves particular praise for its ability to evoke spiritual fervour, complementing the film's themes.

Aravind's encounter with the Aghori, who can read one's past through her palm, serves as a metaphor for confronting fears. The DCP seeks the Aghori's help and embarks on a journey to confront the spectral presence haunting him. As they delve deeper, chilling revelations and dark secrets emerge, challenging their understanding of life, death, and the ties that bind them, leading up to a pivotal mid-interval moment.

In the latter half, the film shifts focus to Bhoomika (Radhika Kumaraswamy in her second role), Shalini's sister and a guest lecturer in paranormal science whom the DCP is fond of, raising questions about Aravind's commitment to his late wife and his closeness with Bhoomika. While this subplot brings layers of complexity, it also risks diluting the emotional gravity established earlier. The introduction of Chetu (Skanda Ashok), who becomes enamoured with Bhoomika, further adds to the narrative.

Will Aravind find a solution to rid himself of the spectral presence with the help of the Aghori and lay his fears to rest? Bhairadevi holds the key to these mysteries.

While the first half lays a strong foundation, the latter half veers into familiar territory, transforming into a family drama intertwined with ethical implications. This shift occasionally detracts from the horror elements, leading to an ending that feels somewhat anticlimactic. Bhairadevi stands firm in her mission to vanquish evil, yet the film concludes with a sense of ambiguity, leaving viewers questioning the resolution.

Director Shrijai's film oscillates between ghostly horror and melodrama, merging personal tragedy with broader cultural themes through mantras and shlokas. While it occasionally struggles with pacing and subplot clarity, the film's emotional core—embodied by Radhika Kumaraswamy—proves captivating. Her character's body language and aura authentically embody the weight of the Aghori, enhanced by a costume designer who has meticulously studied the Aghori look. Alongside Ramesh Aravind's versatility, she carries the weight of the narrative, even as supporting characters like Anu Prabhakar and Rangayana Raghu provide moments of levity. Ramesh deftly balances two shades of his character. Skanda also plays a key role. Malavika Avinash and Suchendra Prasad make brief appearances, and Rangayana Raghu injects some humour into the narrative. Additionally, Ravi Shankar's portrayal of the Aghori leaves a lasting impression, resonating even in his limited screen time.

The two high-energy devotional songs composed by KK Senthil Prasath and the haunting score make the first half a worthwhile watch, allowing Radhika to steal the show. However, it's worth noting the tendency for filmmakers to set the stage for sequels, often at the expense of a cohesive narrative. The vibrancy and attention to detail in the first half risk being overshadowed by a less satisfying second act. As it draws viewers into a rich weave of grief, love, and the supernatural, the film opens the door to possibilities for future instalments—especially in exploring Bhairadevi's interactions with other pivotal characters. But for now, Bhairadevi makes for a film worth savouring at least once.

Minchuhulu: Finding light in life's struggles

A SHARADHAA

A film that inspires and encourages reflection on the complexities of youth and family dynamics, Minchuhulu engages the audience with its heartfelt narrative. The film serves as a poignant reminder that even in the face of adversity, dreams can find a way to shine through. It takes us through the struggles of a careless father and his young son as they confront the harsh realities of urban life. The film unravels the story of Kiran (Master Preetham), whose dreams are set against the backdrop of severe financial hardship. Forced to leave their familiar home, Kiran and his father (Parashivamurthy) move into a dilapidated house devoid of necessities, including electricity. This transition marks the beginning of a tale rich with themes of struggle and resilience.

Kiran, a hopeful dreamer, seeks to improve their living situation by restoring electricity, not just to brighten their home but to create a joyful surprise for his father. However, fate has other plans for them. In a cruel twist, Kiran loses his carefully saved money, leaving him disheartened and questioning his resolve.

Director Mahesh Kumar portrays Kiran's challenges; the first half of the film introduces relatable obstacles, showcasing the boy's determination amid his father's alcoholism and the burdens of economic hardship, balancing moments of struggle with flickers of hope, particularly as Kiran's journey unfolds. The film makes us wonder whether the smallest light can ignite the greatest change in moments of darkness.

Yet, amid the setbacks, Kiran's attempt to bring light to his home and life becomes a pivotal moment, all in the heartland of urban space. The first glimmer of support comes from the paper agent, played by Prithviraj, who reignites Kiran's aspirations and shifts his perspective. This interaction embodies the film's central theme: the transformative power of hope, even in the darkest circumstances.

Minchuhulu also explores the bond between father and son, highlighting the importance of determination, family support, and the unexpected moments that can spark new beginnings. However, the plot raises critical questions about parental responsibilities and societal pressures on youth. Kiran's father, who often exacerbates their troubles, creates a complex and relatable relationship that invites viewers to reflect on the balance between parental expectations and the harsh realities that children face in similar situations.

Master Preetham skilfully portrays Kiran's internal conflicts, bringing a mix of innocence and depth. Prithviraj, in his debut role, impressively captures the intricacies of his character, along with the supporting cast of Parashivamurthy and Rashmi Gowda.

All in all, there is a lot to admire in Minchuhulu. If you're looking for a thought-provoking experience that balances experimentation with relatability, it can be your weekend watch.
